

Ford, Sadat See Mideast Progress

SALZBURG, Austria (AP) — President Ford concluded summit talks with Egypt's Anwar Sadat today and said he would unveil a Middle East peace-seeking formula within the next month.

Appearing before reporters with the Egyptian president, Ford talked optimistically about prospects for a Middle East peace "in the interests of all parties."

Ford said he has yet to make "final judgments" on the peace-seeking formula.

Speaking in English, Sadat said he will return to Cairo to confer with his associates on approaches to peace, adding, "I shall be always in contact with President Ford," whom he invited to visit Egypt.

Sadat, appearing with Ford, said the big achievement of the summit was to establish a personal relationship with the American leader.

As Ford and Sadat spoke, Israeli Premier Yitzhak Rabin announced in Jerusalem that Israel will withdraw half its tanks and men and all its artillery 24 miles from the Suez Canal as a peace gesture to Egypt for reopening the waterway.

"The government of Israel considers the renewal of international shipping as an important and constructive development," Rabin said of the scheduled opening of the canal on Thursday. He said the reduction of Israel's front line troops by half is intended to contribute to the "relaxation of military tension in the area."

The Israelis previously said reopening of the waterway was in Egypt's self-interest and did not oblige Israel to respond with a peaceful gesture. Egypt also is on record as saying it would bar Israeli ships and cargo from the canal on grounds the two states technically are still at war.

Sadat was particularly animated as he and Ford posed for photos at the start of the Salzburg meeting. Ford seemed more serious, smiling faintly from time to time while Sadat grinned broadly.

Their sessions had been described as "very warm, very friendly" although cloaked in secrecy.

"We have agreed not to divulge any of the substantive details," said Tasheen Bashir, the Egyptian president's spokesman, Sunday night after the first day of the two-day meeting.

Under Secretary of State Joseph V. Sisco was similarly tight-lipped and reported, "We have drawn no conclusions, we have made no final judgments" on the best way to proceed with the search for peace, seemingly stalemated since March.

American sources have indicated Ford and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger hoped to revive the step-by-step approach to Middle East negotiations.

Egyptian sources suggested an "ideal solution" would be a negotiated Israeli pullback in the Sinai Desert followed by a withdrawal on the Golan Heights. These well-placed sources said these should be followed by a Geneva peace conference.

Sadat took a hard line in public remarks at lunch Sunday. He said belligerency will end only if Israel recognizes that it cannot acquire territory by force and that the Palestinians have the right "to live in a national home."

Ford in response hailed the Egyptian president as a wise statesman and said, "We understand quite clearly the historical significance of your policies."

U.S. officials said Egyptian terms have hardened since the collapse of Kissinger's attempt in March to negotiate another Israeli withdrawal in the Sinai desert.

Rhodes, Demos At Odds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Majority Democrats in the legislature and GOP Gov. James A. Rhodes are at a political impasse over who would sit on a state board to manage an Ohio energy program.

Rhodes wants to name five members of an eight-member Ohio Energy Authority that also would include the Republican directors of three state departments.

Democrats insist on retaining an existing nine-member Ohio Development Center, changing its name to the Energy Research and Development Agency, and adding two members of each party from the legislature along with two state officials.

The development center, named a year ago and billed as nonpartisan by former Democratic Gov. John J. Gilligan, is dominated 5-4 by Republicans. The proposed 15-member agency would retain Republican control 8-7 and by 1977, as terms expire, could be as much as 13-2 Republican.

Aside from the makeup of the board, the two parties are in virtual agreement with regard to what powers the new agency would have. Democrats put their measure through the Senate last week along party lines (21-11), while the administration proposal comes up for a second hearing Wednesday morning in the House Energy and Environment Committee.

Speaker Vernal G. Riffe Jr., D-89 New Boston, said he plans to ask the committee to consider the Rhodes and Democratic Senate bills jointly. Riffe praised Rhodes' special energy speech to a Senate-House session late last month and vowed "we're going to pass some kind of bill."

In his speech, the governor called for a state agency that could issue self-renewing industrial revenue bonds and make loans and grants for the state to embark on a long list of energy exploration development and conservation projects.

Among them are conversion of industry from natural gas to much more abundant coal, opening new coal mines, helping private interests expand drilling for oil and gas, and constructing gas storage facilities and coal gasification plants, among other things.

Sen. Harry Meshel, D-33 Youngstown, chief sponsor of the Senate measure, said "there's nothing the governor mentioned that he couldn't do under our bill." He accused Senate Republicans, who opposed the Senate measure because it would force Rhodes to settle for a Democrat-controlled agency, of playing "Russian roulette" with the state's energy program.

Senate Minority Leader Michael J. Maloney, R-7 Cincinnati, said it was "unfair" for Democrats to make the governor essentially responsible for energy matters and then refuse to let him appoint his own board.

Frederick Mills, Rhodes' legislative assistant, confirmed that the Democratic measure, although containing different language, would provide the agency with almost the same powers as the governor's bill. But he said the make up of the board is an important consideration. "That's our big hangup," he said.

Rhodes' bill calls for the governor to name five members, no more than three of the same political party, who would serve along with the directors of economic and community development, natural resources, and environmental protection. Assuming Rhodes would pick three Republicans, the GOP would dominate the agency 6-2.

The existing board Democrats want to retain and expand is headed by George S. Dively, executive of the Harris Corp., Cleveland, a Republican. The other members are:

—John C. Fergus, board chairman, Midvo, Inc., Columbus, Republican; D. Bruce Mansfield, retired president, Ohio Edison Co., Akron, Democrat; Milan Marsh, president, Ohio AFL-CIO, Youngstown, Democrat; Robert S. Delman, chairman, National Cash Register, Dayton, Republican; Dr. Abe Silverstein, director, Republic Steel, Cleveland, Democrat; James A. Duerk, Director of the Department of Economic and Community Development, Columbus, Republican; Joseph Tomasi, Regional Director, United Auto Workers, Toledo, Democrat; and Gordon Zacks, president, R. G. Barry Corp., Columbus, Republican.

Terms of Fergus and Zacks expire July 1, those of Dively, Marsh, and Oelman July 1, 1976, and the others July 1, 1977.

Democrats would add one Republican and one Democrat from each house of the legislature. The remaining members of the 15-member agency would be one member of the Public Utilities Commission and the chairman of the Ohio Energy Emergency Commission.

Increases May Hit Food Shoppers

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

The first five months of 1975 brought lower prices for supermarket shoppers, but a new round of increases may be just around the corner, an Associated Press marketbasket survey shows.

Sugar and eggs continued to decline during May, following the pattern set in the early part of this year. But the savings for consumers were partially offset by increases in the price of beef and pork, and the Agriculture Department says egg prices will rise in coming months due to a decrease in the supply.

The AP drew up a random list of 15 commonly purchased food and nonfood items, checked the price on March 1, 1973, and has rechecked each succeeding month.

The latest check showed the bill in every city was lower than it was at the start of the year when prices were at or near record highs. On the average, the decline was 8.3 per cent.

During May, the marketbasket total declined in 10 cities, down an average 1.9 per cent, and increased in three, up an average 2.7 per cent. In April, however, the marketbasket total declined in every city, down an average 2.9 per cent.

Also on the gloomy side: prices at the end of May were 9.9 per cent higher than they were a year earlier, and there were fewer individual price declines during May than there were during April.

ROUNDTOWN

VOTERS wishing to write-in a candidate's name, such as is the case in the local ward councilman, one must look for slot numbers 13 and 14, on the Democratic ticket only then look to the extreme top of the voting machine and lift either one of the two sliding slots and write the name of the candidate. If you do not understand the procedure, ask one of the voting poll workers to assist you before entering the machine to vote.

The increases had been expected and reflected generally higher prices paid at the wholesale level.

Cattlemen, discouraged by low prices for beef in the first part of 1975, have been keeping their animals in pastures, waiting for prices to go up again. A drop in supply means an increase in prices.

The price of a pound of chopped chuck increased during May in 18 of the cities checked, with increases ranging from 5 per cent in Albuquerque, N.M., where the price went from $1.18 to $1.24 a pound, to 62 per cent in Dallas, where the price went from 98 cents to $1.59 a pound.

Pork chops also went up in price in eight cities, and the Agriculture Department has said pork prices probably will continue to rise as supplies decrease and demand for something other than beef increases.

Prices of eggs — one substitute for meat as a source of protein — continued to drop, down in 11 cities during May. But the USDA has said, "Reduced egg supplies, combined with higher prices for most high-protein foods, are expected to boost egg prices well above a year earlier in coming months."

Sugar prices also continued their decline and were at their lowest level since the middle of last summer. May decreases in the price of a five-pound sack of sugar ranged from 11 per cent in Albuquerque to 27 per cent in Boston. In several cities, sugar was selling for $1.39 for a five-pound sack and the highest price in the survey was $1.79 at the New York City check store.

Sugar prices at the stores checked in The AP survey had hit a high of $3.07 for five pounds, generally around last December. The low during the survey period was an average 73 cents for five pounds in the early part of 1973.

Prof Challenged In KSU Trial

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A Kent State University photography professor was to take the stand again today, as the defense challenged his claim that no students threatened Ohio National Guardsmen when they fired on campus demonstrators May 4, 1970.

Charles Brill testified Thursday that photos showing few students near guardsmen when the gunfire erupted accurately reflected conditions on that sunny spring afternoon.

High on the list of witnesses expected to be called this week are two defendants, former guardsmen Mathew McManus and Lawrence Shafer; Dean Kahles, one of the students wounded that day, and photographer John Filo, who used to work for the campus newspaper.

Before court recessed for the weekend, defense attorney Charles Brown questioned Brill's statement that students had no reason to expect guardsmen to be carrying loaded weapons.

"Don't you tell your children that a gun is always loaded?" the lawyer asked.

The professor replied in barely audible tones that he taught his youngsters that guns were not for pointing at people.

During a 13-second barrage, steel-jacketed guardsmen's bullets killed four students and left nine wounded.

The wounded and parents of the dead are pressing $46 million in damages claims against Gov. James Rhodes, three former state officials and 40 ex-guardsmen.

The plaintiffs' first witness, a photographer for the campus newspaper at the time, also told the court his photos correctly showed few students near guardsmen when the shooting started and none within 70-80 feet.

Howard Ruffener's claim was tested by defense lawyer Burt Fulton, who elicited the admission that the witness saw guardsmen turn twice to look over their shoulders as they retreated up Blanket Hill from a practice football field. Ruffener told the court guardsmen flinched as if to sidestep objects but that he saw nothing thrown at them.

He refused to agree with Fulton that students moved toward guardsmen as the troops reached the crest of the hill, where seconds later they whirled and fired.

The victims of the shootings contend guardsmen initiated the confrontation when they attempted to break up a campus rally and troops never were in danger from the demonstrators. Guardsmen have testified in earlier legal action stemming from the shootings that the firing was triggered by a surge of demonstrators and a shot from other than a guardsmen's weapon.

VETERAN TRADER—Ralph Wilson (right) of Zanesville, reminisces with Jim Ford during the semi-annual traders day at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds. Sponsored by Jim Ford Associates, the event has been held twice a year for the past 18 years and Wilson has brought crates of chickens and ducks to every one.

LOOKING FOR A PET—This young lad has found a friend during traders day held Saturday. People from miles around bring everything from "soup to nuts" to trade or sell during the event. Jim Ford, says that two couples even swapped families. The husband who had the most children paid "$50 to boot."

A HERITAGE—In colonial times, traders days were a part of every community. Farmers, craftsmen and anybody who had things to sell brought them to the nearest village on a specified day and bartered for items they might need. These early times are revived twice a year at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market scored another sharp advance today, powered by falling interest rates and signs of an improving economy.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 11.97 at 844.26 on top of a 17.29 gain Friday. Gainers led losers by a 4-1 margin in active trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

At the opening, the government reported that factory orders took their biggest jump in more than 20 years last month, while manufacturers' inventories continued to decline. Softening interest rates, meanwhile, prompted published speculation that a further decline in the bank prime lending rate might be in the offing.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index picked up .63 to 89.31.

Analysts said the market might also have benefited psychologically from news that Israel was withdrawing its artillery and some tanks and soldiers from the Suez Canal as a peace gesture to Egypt.

The market is often sensitive to Middle East developments because of the economic importance of Arab oil. The NYSE's composite index rose .61 to 49.07.

Congress Faces Heavy Agenda After Memorial Day Recess

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is returning from a 10-day Memorial Day recess with an agenda that includes foreign policy, voting rights, a deadlocked appropriation bill and two presidential vetoes.

Liberals and conservatives were prepared to do battle in the Senate later today in what was billed as a "great debate" on foreign policy and defense posture in the post-Vietnam era.

The vehicle for this debate is a $30.3 billion authorization bill for military weapons procurement and research. The amount recommended by the Senate Armed Services Committee for the 15-months beginning July 1 is $5.4 billion less than Pentagon budget requests and $2.3 billion under the bill passed by the House on May 20.

Final Senate action is scheduled for Friday after votes beginning Wednesday on amendments to impose additional over-all cuts and to reduce or eliminate specific weapons programs.

The debate was arranged primarily by Sens. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., and Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., with the cooperation of Sens. James A. McClure, R-Idaho, Barry M. Goldwater, R-Ariz., Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and Harry F. Byrd, Ind.-Va.

In a prelude May 22, in which all senators were invited to express their views, Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., of the Senate Armed Services Committee warned: "Let America beware of a military letdown immediately after all that has happened in South Vietnam."

On the liberal side, Cranston said Americans are "calling for new priorities.

"The United States should be a peaceful world neighbor instead of a militant world meddler," he said. "We need a foreign and defense policy based on international partnerships for peace and freedom ..."

The House takes up a bill to extend the voting rights act until August 1985, making permanent the ban on literacy tests as a condition for voting and extending coverage to foreign-language-speaking minorities.

The deadlocked $15-billion appropriation bill is delaying payment of GI education benefits to some 300,000 veterans. The measure was on the brink of enactment right before the recess but was snarled by Senate insistence on a $700-million item to repair railroad tracks.

One veto, involving a $5.3-billion appropriation bill that its sponsors say would create 900,000 jobs, was signed last week by President Ford who said its impact would come after the economy was on the road to recovery and would aggravate inflation.

The House will vote this week, probably Wednesday, on whether to override the veto. The measure, which would provide funds for public works projects, won overwhelming House approval last month.

The second veto involved the bill to protect the environment against strip mining.

An override vote on Ford's veto of the bill was postponed before the Memorial Day recess when sponsors of the measure could not muster the needed two-thirds vote in the House. The override vote is tentatively set for June 10.

Congress Fights Subpoenas In Franked Mail Lawsuit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both the Senate and House are fighting subpoenas seeking testimony and records about alleged abuses of free mailing privileges by their members.

The subpoenas were issued in connection with a lawsuit, filed by Common Cause, seeking to end taxpayer-financed mass mailings by members of Congress.

Among the items being withheld are records of complaints received by the Senate and House bodies that are supposed to deal with abuses of the freemail or "franking" privilege. Records of what happened to those complaints are likewise being kept in Congress' file cabinets.

Also being withheld are records that would show what materials were mailed at taxpayer expense by each member of the Senate and House.

The House has refused even to allow its employees to appear to give testimony in the lawsuit. The Senate allowed some testimony, but won't disclose its records.

Testimony and documents already on file in the lawsuit show that much of the mail Congress sends at taxpayer expense is tied directly to the re-election campaigns of Senate and House members.

Among the disclosures so far:

—Two direct-mail experts, on the Senate payroll at $19,000-a-year and $25,000-a-year respectively, advised several incumbent Republicans on how to use "official" franked mail to get votes.

—A manual setting up a model campaign schedule for Senate Democrats refers to newsletters as a "free forum" and tells when they should be sent during the campaign.

—Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., in 1973 approved a tax-financed mail program intended to pay off for him on election day, according to testimony of a former aide. Javits was unavailable for comment, but another aide said the senator sends franked mail even when he isn't running, and that it "has nothing to do with voters per se."

—Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., mailed more than 800,000 letters to

Vote Could Oust State Senator

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania State Sen. Frank Mazzei appears headed for expulsion this week at the hands of a Senate moved by outrage about reported underworld threats against senators and a growing public clamor.

Democratic floor leader Thomas Nolan had planned to convene the Rules Committee today to vote on resolutions that, if approved by two-thirds of the 49 remaining senators, would oust Mazzei.

The 62-year-old Pittsburgh Democrat was sentenced April 11 to five years in prison and fined $20,000 for taking a $20,000 political contribution from a state lessor in exchange for getting it contracts.

A vote by the full Senate was expected either today or Tuesday and senators say the resolution will pass.

special interest groups during his 1973 re-election campaign. These letters sometimes paid off in campaign donations and volunteers. A Tower aide said the letters were within the law and were intended to inform Texans about Tower's activities.

None of this activity necessarily violates any law or regulation since Congress has wide discretion in use of tax-paid mail. Congress gave itself the right to send official mail at government expense at the founding of the Republic, and only Congress polices against abuses of the free mailings.

Common Cause contends that franked mass mailings give a political edge to incumbents over candidates trying to unseat them and that this violates the constitutional guarantee of due process.

The group seeks not only to end franked mass mailings, but to require the Postal Service to begin policing Congress for abuses of the free-mail privilege.

Common Cause last September subpoenaed records of the congressional panels assigned to police franking abuses, but neither chamber complied. A court dispute is now in progress.

Cutting Money 'Cost'

In the many-faceted credit field, a drop in the discount rate offered by the Federal Reserve Board to member banks does not automatically precede a general decrease in interest rates. But as one of the costs incurred by lending institutions of securing temporary funds to lend to their customers, the discount rate is an important factor in easing or tightening the money supply.

By lowering the discount rate another quarter of a percentage point (to 6 per cent), the Federal Reserve Board is continuing a trend which began in April, 1974, when the discount rate was 8 per cent.

The latest drop is the fifth in a year, and is clearly designed as part of the Federal Reserve System's contribution to promoting economic growth. A two-point drop in the discount rate in so short a time is considered a strong incentive to lower interest rates generally and promote more liberal credit practices.

Nor is there any reason to believe the discount rate decline will stop at 6 per cent, if the economic recovery does not proceed on schedule — and providing the credit ease does not fuel a new round of inflation.

Every Last Chip

By JIM BISHOP

Amarillo Slim strutted into Binion's Horseshoe Casino with a foot-long Remington .44 stuck straight down in his pants. He touched his cowboy hat off his brow and said, "Ah'm gonna shoot anybody who cheats at poker." I said, "If that thing goes off, you're gonna be out of action for a week."

The World Series of Poker started on that note. Twenty-one players arrived in Las Vegas, each armed with $10,000. The last man would walk out with $210,000. If a player loses his poke, he can't buy back in.

Jack Binion set up three green felt tables and all played a brand of poker called "Hold 'Em." Each player gets two cards face down. Anybody can open for a hundred or a thousand. Anybody can increase the opening amount. Players stay in or drop out.

Three cards are then dealt face up on the table by the dealer. This is called the "Flop House." There is a second round of betting. Each player is trying to make a winning hand out of the two cards he holds, and those on the table.

A fourth card, called "Fourth Street," is laid face up. More betting. Then a fifth card is placed face up. Players with three of a kind will bet $2,000, only to be shaken out of the tree by a $4,000 advance by someone with a full house. The player who can make a flush or a straight flush out of the total of seven cards will freeze everybody out.

Amarillo Slim was through on the first night of play, stony broke. I asked what happened. "Ah was bettin' when ah shoulda been sweatin'," he said and walked out with his cannon and adjacent scenery intact.

Outside the rail, spectators were betting each other who would win the next hand. Most of the champions come from Texas, and they are professional players. Each has been busted many times in poker, but they have no sweat glands.

On the morning of the third day of play, four players remained. Softly, they kidded each other at one table. They riffled and clacked their stacks of chips incessantly. The sound was like the seven sorrowful mysteries.

Sailor Roberts was still alive with $63,700. So was Aubrey Day of Alabama with $62,200. The third was Crandall Addington of San Antonio with $53,600. B. Hooks had a plaid jacket and a big cigar and $30,500.

Roberts looks like a young Jackie Gleason, a man who smiles at the other players with a pair of blue ball bearings. Aubrey Day, in a maroon jacket and tie, a polite man with deep jacket and tie, a polite man with deep dark wavy hair, frowned as he aced it $16,000.

He won with a pair of aces over Robert's pair of kings. Addington was the cool fop in the dark gold shades. They say he has never worn any suit twice.

The three with the most money were trying to freeze Hooks out. If they could do it, the 21 players would be reduced to three. Addington smiled at the ash on his cigar. He dropped out of a hand. Day and the Sailor ran Hooks' bet up to every last chip.

He was not in the freezer. He won the pot with a full house. Hooks is the only man I know who can look off at a wall, take a pile of $1,000 chips and a pile of $100s, shuffle them together with a rattle, and separate them properly while dreaming of the next hand.

Of the 21 only one, a Texas oil millionaire, was not a professional gambler. He put up his $10,000 entry fee and was beaten to death. But then he told me that three years ago he drilled 24 dry holes — which is gambling. The next year he had 26 gushers out of 30 drillings.

Amarillo Slim will clock a sunrise if the odds are right. He once bet Evel

Protracted Holiday Slows Tempo Of Life In Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Once again the nation's periodically bustling capital is gripped by the Great Gregorian Calendar Virus, a chronic, low-grade fever known more familiarly as a protracted holiday.

This time it was the inexorable reappearance of Memorial Day which triggered the relapse. For most Americans it was a painless, 24-hour phenomenon that came and went last Monday, but congressmen have been afflicted for more than a week.

So, as usual, they have fled the shores of the Potomac for the duration. And that, in turn, has wrought a certain abnormality, if not downright idleness, upon those left behind.

An especially acute hearing aid surely would register a gain in the muffled beat of pencils tapped by a myriad of bureaucrats. Bartenders and reporters fret more than ever over job security. Elevator operators become energy savers and models of economic responsibility by going neither up nor down. Cabbies observe the limits both of speed and civility. And at least three commuters found free parking spaces.

This particular depression in the capital humdrum was aggravated, of course, by the mid-week departure of President Ford for business in Europe.

Lulled by his absence, the media had but a few representatives at hand when the White House press office quietly floated his veto Thursday of a $5.3 billion jobs bill. Given the dearth of available congressmen who might otherwise have jumped at the chance to criticize, the timing couldn't have been better.

With the President gone, wouldn't Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller be busier than usual?

"He hasn't done a thing that he wouldn't have done anyway," said a Knievel he could beat him at golf using only a hammer. Slim won.

On the fifth day, Crandall and Day were wiped out. Sailor Roberts had $150,000. Hooks was back up with $59,000. Hooks had to win a big one to remain alive.

The impassive dealer dealt the Sailor two jacks. Hooks peeked at a jack of clubs and a nine of clubs. Possible straight flush. He bet $10,000. Roberts upped it another 10. The face-up flop showed a seven of hearts, a six of clubs and a deuce of clubs.

Hooks pushed his entire pile out waiting for a club. Roberts called. The final card was a 10 of hearts. Hooks had a pair of nines. Roberts won it all with a pair of jacks.

He clasped his hands on top of his head and yawned. He didn't want to think of the tax on $210,000 . . .

spokesman. "In fact, he's spending the weekend in New York with his family."

With Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger — who frequently prefers being known as "a senior American official" — also out of the country, even Washington's production as a world listening post has gone downhill. You just don't see many stories quoting junior American officials, nor do they draw very well as guests of honor at embassy parties.

Beef Grading Change Nixed By U.S. Judge

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — A federal judge has ruled that the U.S. Department of Agriculture cannot change the way it grades the nation's beef.

U.S. District Court Judge Robert V. Denney, issuing a permanent injunction against the USDA Thursday, called the proposed regulations "arbitrary, capricious, an abuse of discretion or otherwise not in accordance with law."

He ruled the department failed to say adequately what economic impact the changes would have and improperly tied quality grading to yield grading, or the amount of usable meat a carcass will yield.

The proposed changes would have lowered the standards for fat marbling — the tiny specks of fat through red meat felt to be the best indicator of how tasty, tender and juicy beef will be. This would have allowed some cattle now graded "good" to move up to "choice," and some "choice" animals to get a "prime" grade.

Consumer groups charged that the proposed standards would have meant retailers could charge the same amount of money for inferior meat, and meat packers said the new regulations would increase their costs. But the government claimed current marbling standards were too high, and cattle growers said they had to spend too much on feed to fatten their beef to meet the standards.

Denney, a former Nebraska congressman who has raised some cattle himself, issued a preliminary injunction last month halting the scheduled April 14 start of the new standards.

The injunction was upheld by the U.S. 8th Circuit Court of Appeals, but the higher court amended the injunction to a 45-day time limit and ordered Denney to hold hearings on a suit filed by the Independent Meat Packers Association of Omaha (IM-PAO).

Denney held two weeks of hearings, which ended last Friday. Nearly 30 witnesses were called to testify as "experts" for and against the new standards, and more than 2,000 pages of testimony were taken. His decision beat the 45-day limit by one day.

The government and its lone intervenor, the Denver-based American National Cattlemen's Association, have 10 days to file notice of appeal of the latest ruling to the 8th Circuit Court, and Denney said he felt such a notice would probably be filed Friday.

Today's birthdays: The exiled King of Greece, Constantine II, is 35. Former astronaut Charles Conrad is 45.

Thought for today: A good face is the best recommendation — Queen Elizabeth I, 1533-1603.

Bicentennial footnote: It was 200 years ago that the American Revolutionary soldier, Ethan Allen, wrote to the New York Provincial Congress that the chief importance of captured Fort Ticonderoga and Crown Point was as a base for an army to invade Quebec.

Abraham A. Parrett, 71, associated with his brother Mack Parrett Sr. in the clothing business here for over 50 years, died at his home, 214 E. Main St. He was the only Republican county recorder and city treasurer to ever hold the office here.

Commencement was held for Circleville High School's 53 graduating seniors in the 72nd annual ceremonies.

The country residence of Joe D. Anderson on Island Road was destroyed by fire.

Dr. Hartley Clarke, distinguished for his 63 years of practice of dentistry in the state, all in Circleville built the first modern business building in Circleville in 1893. It was later known as the Friedman building.

The doctor recalled being offered a job in a local drugstore while in high school on the strength of his three years of Latin. There were no pharmacy laws and anyone who could get behind a prescription counter was qualified to concoct medicine.

He also recalled toddling up Bastille Ave. which extended from the intersection of Mound and Scioto Sts. to the public square at the Joseph Clothing Company store.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I work in a noisy factory. I have to shout to be heard by the man who sits two feet away from me. Can this affect my hearing? I am 27. Two people in my family are deaf.

Mr. J.H., Mich.

Dear Mr. H.:

There is a distinct relationship between exposure to constant, intense noise and deafness.

Gunfire, factory and machine shop noises, sonic and ultrasonic booms can be responsible for hearing problems. Many people are exposed to ultrasonic vibrations which are not heard, yet can do harm to the delicate hearing mechanism.

Acoustical engineers have made important contributions to protect workers against excessive noise.

Unfortunately, many workers become careless and do not use the protective measures their company provides. Some employers, too, are careless and overlook these dangers inherent in their plants.

Your factory leader should present this problem to your employers and establish safety measures for all the workers. It seems, too, that the constant shouting may put unnecessary strain on your vocal cords.

I awake almost every night with a cramp in my foot or leg. It never happens during the day. I'm in good health at 68. Can this be prevented or cured?

Mr. B.R.T., Tex.

Dear Mr. T.:

These sudden pains in the calf muscles or the toes are due to some narrowing, or spasms, of the artery that brings blood and oxygen to the leg. The accumulated toxicity of tobacco may be a factor. Tight bed sheets that restrict the movement of the legs further impair circulation.

When such a spasm occurs it can usually be relieved by gently, but firmly, bringing the toes up. By keeping them there the spasm usually disappears.

There are some excellent drugs, such as quinine which, when prescribed by physicians, may prevent the frequency and diminish the severity of these "cramps" in the legs.

Paralyzed Man To Swim Channel

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — An elementary school coach, paralyzed from the waist down in an automobile accident, says he will try to swim the English Channel this summer.

"It's easy to get wrapped up in our personal problems, forgetting the beauties associated with our lives," says 24-year-old John Robertson, who coaches three sports from his wheelchair. "We must realize our limitations, but challenge them continually."

The accident that led to that philosophy occurred six years ago.

"I was lying down in the back seat and the two guys in the front seat were talking about Vietnam and then got to talking about death," he says. They agreed that Robertson would be the safest in the event of a wreck.

"See the third pole on the right," he quoted the driver as saying. "Let's get in an accident."

He said that as a joke, the driver swerved. But the car veered out of control and hit the pole. Robertson became a paraplegic. His two companions were not injured.

Today, he doesn't dwell on the mistake. He has completed college, become a teacher at Yavapai Elementary School and coaches basketball, track and softball.

Robertson said he has been training for the 21-mile swim across the channel for two years, swimming more than two miles daily at a local pool and on the weekends in the Gulf of California.

This summer he will go to San Diego to train in the choppy ocean water. "I plan to swim 21 miles several times in San Diego before I try the Channel ... to get my confidence up," he said.

Robertson said he will tackle the Channel in August.

"I want to be an example for others to be able to see that their dreams are possible," he said.

Nuns Decide Picking Job Really Just The Berries

FARINA, Ill. (AP) — Nuns have been on their knees in Glenn Ernst's strawberry patch much of this week. Picking, not praying.

Ernst says that even in these hard times he couldn't find anyone else who'd stoop to the job.

Faced with the prospect of letting the fruit rot in the fields, he decided to give the berries to the sisters of St. Francis Convent in Effingham, about 30 miles north, for the harvesting.

Twenty-eight of Ernst's 240 Southern Illinois acres are planted in strawberries. This year, because of a warm spell, they've ripened faster than usual.

His farm crew couldn't keep up. In the past he's relied on a pick-them-yourself operation to take up the slack, but this year there is just too much fruit.

And despite pay of up to $30 a day, no one from nearby towns responded to his help wanted ads.

"If I could have got the labor in here we could have had them picked," Ernst, 53, said. "I thought, 'Well, I'll just give them away now.' So I thought, 'There's no finer organization to give them to than the sisters.' I'm Protestant, myself, but a lot of my friends around here are Catholic."

The first group of nuns came down Tuesday, the same day he asked whether they'd be interested. By Thursday about 15 sisters had tried their hands at the work.

Sister Jolina Snyder said, "We are preserving them, freezing them for the convent. We thought it was pretty generous of him and we really appreciated it."

Sisters from a Springfield convent reported for work Thursday.

Most of the sisters work at a hospital. They planned to share the fruits of their labors with patients. After more than two hours of picking, Sister Jolina had just one complaint: "Sore knees."

Farm Commodity Prices At Peak

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm commodity prices are at their highest peak so far in 1975, on the average, mainly because cattle and hog prices continued to climb sharply last month.

As of May 15, the Agriculture Department said Friday, the index of prices farmers receive for what they produce rose another 5 per cent from mid-April. That was on top of a 4 per cent gain a month earlier and put the price index at its highest point since last December.

Prices of meat animals as a group went up 14 per cent from April 15. Beef cattle, for example, were $36.50 per 100 pounds, a gain of $4.70 from mid-April. Even so, cattle prices average slightly below a year earlier.

London Battles Financial Woes

LONDON (AP) — Like New York, the city of London is in deep financial trouble. There is talk of bankruptcy, but authorities say they are confident it won't happen here.

London's woes are strikingly similar to those now strapping the administration of Mayor Abraham D. Beame in New York. But London has physical assets to fall back on in a pinch and New York doesn't. Among London's woes: —London's debt was $4.6 billion at the end of March. It may be difficult to borrow more. New York City's debt has risen from $500 million in 1965 to $6 billion now. —Property taxes have risen 50 per cent and bus and subway fares 80 per cent or more in the past year in London, but the added revenue hasn't helped. Increases in transit fares and property taxes have been discussed in New York.

—Much of London's long-term debt was borrowed when interest rates were at 3 or 4 per cent. As the loans mature, the money to repay them must be borrowed at 12 or 13 per cent. The national government won't lend money to London unless the city pays still higher interest rates. New York has been borrowing at a rate of 9.5 per cent. The Ford administration in Washington has turned down New York's plea for help.

—City employees here want a wage increase of 30 per cent to keep ahead of inflation now running at 21.7 per cent. They also want differentials because living costs are higher in London.

—While costs rose, London's tax base declined. The population dropped from 7.9 million to 7.2 million in the past 10 years. Each year the city lost 40,000 manufacturing jobs.

New York's population has remained steady at 8 million but the city has lost large numbers of skilled middle-class whites and the taxes they paid.

The Greater London Council which governs the city now is controlled by the Labor party headed locally by Sir Reg Goodwin. The Laborites are committed to spending on housing, education and other programs to help the poorer areas. The opposition Conservative party charges that property taxes are too high and urgent spending cuts are essential.

Most experts express a belief, however, that London will make it. "The GLC will not go bankrupt,"

The Economist concluded after a survey of the financial difficulties.

Said Goodwin's deputy, Illyd Harrington: "All the obsessive talk about bankruptcy is being done by superannuated academics."

For one thing, the GLC is one of the world's biggest landlords. The 250,000 dwellings it owns outright and uses for subsidized housing are worth significantly more than the total outstanding debt. They could be sold to pay off the debt. New York City has nothing comparable.

Vinton County Bank Held Up

WILKESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Law enforcement officers from throughout Southeastern Ohio were joined by the FBI Friday in the search for two armed men who held up the Wilkesville branch of the Vinton County National Bank.

Authorities were conducting an audit to determine how much money was taken.

According to bank manager Robert Will, it was the first time the bank has been robbed during its 100 years of operation in Vinton County.

There were no injuries in the holdup.

Ohio Senate Report

By OAKLEY C. COLLINS
17th District Senator

There was heavy committee action in the Legislature this week. Stimulation of home improvements is the object of two bills before the Senate Ways and Means Committee.

One bill provides temporary real property tax exemptions for home improvements. Current law provides that all residential real property be taxed at 35 per cent of market value. The exemption for improvements would apply to a dwelling or unit in a multi-unit dwelling or condominium used as a home. Both rental and owner-occupied properties could qualify.

The exemptions would be for varying lengths of time depending on the value of the improvement: less than $1,000 - one year; $1,000-$2,000 - two years; $2,000-$3,000 - three years; $3,000-$4,000 - four years; and $4,000 or more - five years.

The other bill also attempts to encourage home improvements but does so through an income tax credit allowance rather than through a property tax exemption. A credit of up to 5 per cent of the value of the home improvement, but not exceeding $65., could be taken once every four taxable years.

Taxpayers who won and occupy a home with a taxable value under $7,500 could, under this bill, take the credit once every two years. Only improvements made after December 31, 1974, would qualify for tax credit purposes.

Two bills eliminating direct election of delegates to national political party conventions are undergoing hearings in the Senate Committee on Elections, Financial Institutions & Insurance. Presently, electors choose in the primary delegates to represent them at their national party convention. The name of each candidate for delegate appears on the ballot along with his or her first and second choice for president.

The resolutions would, in effect, turn the primary into a presidential preference primary by eliminating delegate candidate names from the ballot. Thus, electors would vote for their choice for president rather than for delegates per se.

However, one resolution does not clearly specify how the names of delegate candidates are to appear on the ballot, leaving it to be determined by the General Assembly.

The intent of both is to eliminate the so-called "bedsheet ballot." In some congressional districts, listing the names of all delegate candidates and their first and second choice for president requires a paper ballot of enormous size, which confuses the voter and complicates the vote tally. Should a de facto preferential primary be instituted, Ohio would probably assume a more important role in the presidential nomination sweepstakes.

In the House the Judiciary Committee is considering a bill which seeks to prohibit conditional pricing in consumer sales, a practice in which a supplier lowers the price of goods to customers on the condition they buy other goods as well.

This bill also establishes operational and investigatory procedures for the Ohio Department of Commerce and vests in the Commerce Director authority to compel testimony in investigations of suspicious business activities.

The train's 25 cars carry exhibits as part of the country's bicentennial celebration.

Legislative Report

By MYRL SHOEMAKER,
State Representative
88th House District

After a complicated legislative history in the Ohio Senate, the controversial school foundation formula bill had its first hearing in the House Finance Appropriations Committee on Wednesday.

The major intent of Am. Sub. S. B. 170 is to change the state school foundation formula and to make several changes in the school finance reporting and tax laws. As passed by the Senate, the proposed formula guarantees to every school district that for every pupil in average daily membership it will receive state support equal to the difference between $1,380 and the amount the district would raise locally if:

1.) its real property tax was assessed at 35 per cent of true value in money and

2.) it levied 30 mills for current expenses.

Districts that would levy fewer than 30 mills or that had real property that is not assessed at 35 per cent would receive less state aid. They receive the difference between:

1.) $960 and what the district would raise per pupil from 20 mills if property was assessed at 35 per cent and

2.) $42 and what the district would raise per pupil from each mill it levied in excess of 20 mills.

The amended substitute Senate version of S. B. 170, besides providing the State of Ohio with a school foundation formula, has retained one of the fundamental recommendations of the Education Review Committee — the use of equalized tax duplicates, millage rates and the property tax rollback.

Am. Sub. S. B. 170 will probably undergo some additional revisions in the House Finance Appropriations Committee before it is subsequently voted out of the Committee. Since the piece of legislation is so comprehensive and technical in nature, it is pertinent that the House carefully scrutinize all aspects of this bill before it comes to the full House for a vote.

Am. Sub. S. B. 170 is not the perfect solvent for all our state funding problems. However, it will provide us with an equitable foundation for financing education in Ohio.

Consumer bills dealing with automobile repossession, the "holder-in-due-course" law and other consumer problems were heard during this week's Ohio House Judiciary Committee hearings.

Under the "holder-in-due-course" statute, the retailer of installment payment merchandise sells the contract to a finance company and is then relieved of the responsibility should an item turn out to be defective. H.B. 419 would permit the consumer to withhold payments from the finance company or bank if the merchandise was defective. If a court then found that the merchandise was inferior, the consumer would be relieved of his financial obligation.

H. B. 419 would also require auto dealers who repossess vehicles, to sell them at a previously publicized public auction. This would hopefully end a practice under which a dealer sells the repossessed vehicle to himself at a deflated price.

The second consumer measure considered by the Judiciary Committee would prohibit credit agencies from obtaining personal information about a consumer without his prior consent. The third measure forbids retailers from lowering the price of merchandise on the condition that the consumer purchase another item or product.

The national problem of overwhelming medical malpractice insurance fees has in recent years, threatened the availability of health care and has contributed to the rising medical costs which are inevitably passed on to the consumer. This week, the House Insurance, Utilities and Financial Institutions Committee accepted a subcommittee version of legislation, which would help to solve Ohio's medical malpractice insurance problems. Final action by the full committee is expected sometime next week.

One of the main provisions of the bill is the creation of a joint underwriting association to guarantee physicians and hospitals malpractice coverage through private companies as well as hospitalization and surgical plans.

Another attempt to implement a no-fault auto insurance law is currently in the offing. The House Insurance, Utilities and Financial Institutions Committee accepted a draft of a bill this week that provides that policy holders, within certain limits, can collect from their own insurance companies, regardless of who was at fault in an accident. The bill calls for a $1,500 threshold. Similar legislation passed the House last year with a $250 threshold allowance, but died in the Senate Rules Committee.

The legislative agenda for the next few weeks will certainly be diverse. Hopefully, the Senate will act with expedience on H. B. 155, the Budget bill. By the same token, the House should recognize its fiscal responsibilities to the people of Ohio and make an equal effort to carefully consider Am. Sub. S. B. 170.

Little Billy's mother, divorced and remarried, decided to change the boy's name to that of her new husband. "Frankly," she explained in a court hearing, "I hate having to make these embarrassing explanations all the time. Since the three of us are living together as a family, we ought to all have the same name."

But when her first husband—Billy's father—raised an objection, the court refused to make the change. The court said it would respect a father's natural desire to have his son retain his name.

In these divorce situations, despite the awkwardness of having two different surnames in the new household, courts generally try to protect the relationship between the child and the original parent.

But what if that relationship has already gone sour? In another change-of-name case, also involving a little boy, the father had seen his son only once in eight years. Nor had he bothered to send him any money or even letters.

In this case, the court ruled that the mother could indeed change the boy's name—regardless of the father's objection.

"This father is wholly unknown to the boy," said the court. "He is a total stranger to him. Filial love cannot be decreed. It must be earned."

Furthermore, a parent's name may become a real liability to the child. In another case, a man was found guilty of homicide after a scandalous trial.

In considering a name change for his young daughter, a court decided it would be better for the child to be relieved of the burden of her father's notoriety. Granting the change, the court said:

"The sins of the father should not be visited upon the children."

Newark Soldier
Killed In Crash

WOODLAND PARK, Colo. (AP) — Pvt. Charles D. Hunt, 18, of Newark, Ohio, was killed Sunday when he was thrown from his car as it overturned on a state highway near here, the Colorado State Patrol reported.

Hunt's car struck a road marker, slid across the road and rolled over twice, throwing Hunt to the pavement, the patrol said.

He was stationed at Ft. Carson, Colo.

Three devastating hurricanes named Anna, Carla and Hattie occurred in 1961.

New-Style Skateboards Appear

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Look out! Skateboards are back.

A rebirth of this sidewalk version of surfing is leaving a trail of inverted adolescents from San Diego to Sacramento.

When skateboards were the youthful mania of the early 1960s, they were just what the name implied: a skate and a board on which an agile youngster could zip along and maneuver.

Today's skateboards are faster, sturdier — and more expensive. But manufacturers and retailers say sales are soaring.

"In the last 30 days there's been this thing about skateboards and it's getting stronger every minute," says Clara Segal of Broadway department stores, which are advertising them across the state.

"It's definitely a comeback," she says. "There's been a comeback in surfing, and this is a part of it. Skateboards are big things on junior high, high school and college campuses."

The new skateboards are made of fiberglass and come in various colors. They have specially designed truck mountings and wheels of urethane. Lengths range from 24 to 29 inches.

The Broadway stores sell them at prices from $22.99 to $31.99.

Rick Walterhoefer, co-manager of a store in Woodland Hills which sells skateboards from $12.95 to $43.95, says the urethane wheel is responsible for the resurgence of skateboards.

"It's a plastic wheel that grips much better than the hard wheels," he says. "You can do things that with the hard wheels the board would slide out from under you."

"You can actually go up and down a wall like riding a surfboard."

Learning to ride a skateboard often brings alarmingly frequent meetings with the asphalt and its potential to bruise and break has alarmed some parents and authorities.

The California Highway Patrol says skateboards have been clocked up to 35 miles an hour and it is cracking down on reckless skaters.

A number of youths have been issued citations for violating the right-of-way of vehicles when they careen into the streets.

"Skateboarding is an extremely dangerous practice, and we have had a number of injuries," says Capt. Tom Carroll.

Ed Gottschlich, owner of the Oak Street Surf Shop in Laguna Beach, calls the craze "a periodic phenomena — skateboards come and go."

But he adds, "We now have vastly superior skateboards and maybe it will survive this time. But 9 out of 10 people going into the business are going to lose their shirts."

Woman Charged
In Fatal Shooting

KENTON, Ohio (AP) — Ora Harpster of Belle Center was to be arraigned in Hardin County Municipal Court today on charges of involuntary manslaughter in the shooting death of her former husband.

The Hardin County sheriff's department charged the Kenton County woman in the shooting of Myron Harpster, 46. He died after being shot twice in the chest at his daughter's home near Kenton.

Harsha Reports

BY WILLIAM H. HARSHA
Representative To Congress
Sixth District Of Ohio

Congress has ended its Memorial Day recess in a somewhat new frame of mind where national defense and defense spending are concerned.

It was probably a coincidence that only 10 days before the traditional celebration of Memorial Day, the House approved intact the $32 billion weapons procurement bill reported by the Armed Services Committee.

More significant than the total authorization figure approved was the sound rejection of a raft of amendments aimed at cutting defense spending.

Blocked were efforts to trim back the B-1 bomber program, cut the Trident submarine project, and eliminate the A10 fighter plane project. After failing on specific defense items, opponents of the bill made a futile last-ditch effort to cut almost $2 billion from the over-all bill.

By any yardstick, a 333-to-63 vote in favor of spending for military hardware at this time is highly significant. It shows that advocates of a strong defense posture are more determined than ever—and even more revealing, it reflects some re-thinking by traditional opponents of substantial military spending.

Some of the instant experts on Vietnam within the Congress are suddenly faced with the realization that the Communist takeover of that small Asian country could have far-reaching consequences. The "domino theory", so roundly discredited, is far more believable today, given recent developments in Southeast Asia.

Whatever the motivation, it is refreshing to see a strong House majority take a stand against the trend toward unilateral disarmament in the blind pursuit of some kind of detente. I was part of that majority, because I considered the weapons programs vital to our security.

Even if only a coincidence, it was certainly timely that as America was about to honor her war dead, her leaders in Congress acted to keep the nation strong and hopefully make certain that those sacrifices by so many Americans in uniform were not made in vain.

While the Senate is considering final action on its own $30.3 billion military procurement authorization bill, the House vote was the first warning to any throughout the world who would conclude that our withdrawal of men and arms from South Vietnam was a pattern for future behavior.

Vietnam had become a showcase of American military and political mistakes. However, a determination on our part not to make the same mistakes again should not necessarily be viewed as a return to isolationism.

We cannot afford the luxury of basing our military posture on how we would have the world to be, rather than how it is. The House vote on military procurement was a hopeful sign that America will not seek to escape from an unpleasant reality.

The Constitution, after all, places the responsibility on Congress to provide for the common defense and to raise and support armies. Even those who vote to spend nearly half our tax dollars to support welfare-oriented social programs cannot dispute the fact that providing this nation with an adequate defense is a Constitutional mandate.

Our jittery allies in Western Europe could be breathing easier in light of rejection by the House of an amendment to cut back U.S. troops stationed abroad by 70,000. Communist success in Southeast Asia and the growing superiority of Warsaw Pact forces over NATO forces in Europe obviously prompted the rejection.

Yet, support for an adequate defense budget should not be taken as a green light for waste. The Defense budget is not sacrosanct.

During my Congressional career, I have worked to reduce the staggering federal deficit. While I feel that spending for national defense should be a top priority item, unnecessary fat should be trimmed and any waste eliminated—wherever it might be.

At the same time, we cannot afford to be lured by the fantasy of detente with the Russians into dropping our guard militarily. And if the pre-Memorial Day vote on military procurement in the House was something more than a temporary knee-jerk reaction to events in South Vietnam and Cambodia, we will avoid such a fantasy and remain alert and prepared.

Rock Fans Tear Up Press Box

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — A crowd of rock music fans, angered by the cancellation of part of a concert, burned down the press box at Bowling Green State University's Doyt-Perry Stadium Sunday night.

An estimated 33,000 persons had flocked to the stadium for the Poe Ditch Music Festival that ended in a rainstorm.

The windy downpour and technical problems forced promoters to call off the concert as the top attractions, Johnny Winter and Golden Earring, were preparing to go onstage.

Disgruntled fans began throwing bottles onstage as equipment was moved out of the rain, then set fire to the press box when the final two groups declined to perform, fire officials said.

City police also reported a fire in the downtown area about the same time, but were unable to confirm that it was related to the disturbance.

Eight rock groups were invited to play for the concert that raised an estimated $35,000 for the school's athletic program according to Ross Todd, promoter of the festival.

The crowd began gathering as early as Saturday morning for the program that began at 9:30 a.m. Sunday, Todd said.

Security personnel from the university, Bowling Green police and the Wood County sheriff's department were on hand to control the crowd.

A 13-bed first aid station was filled all day with people suffering from everything from cut feet to drug side effects, to an expectant mother in labor, one of the physicians on hand said.

Tickets went for $10 at the gate, and $7 to students and $8 for regular tickets in advance.

Assembly Gets Consumer Bills

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Taking care of the consumer is a big thing in the 111th General Assembly. Forty-odd bills have been introduced with that aim.

If the bills pass as written, the marketplace will be a slightly different place to spend money. Among pending measures are those that would:

—Ban the sale of pull-tab metal containers and require a deposit on soft drink and beer cans.

—Abolish the mandatory 25 per cent profit markup on beer and wine.

—Order samples of the service provided by dating bureaus, dancing and martial arts studios and health clubs before the customer signs a contract.

—Require stores to include a numerical price on each item even for those stores which have computer systems to scan those price codes that look like senseless lines.

—Ban lawyers either for plaintiffs or defendants in Ohio's Small Claims Court.

—Abolish the mechanics lien against homeowners who already have paid the prime contractor for work.

—Require credit agencies to explain all the symbols and codes in credit files and give the state means of enforcing the Federal Fair Credit Reporting Act, and ban anyone getting a credit report without the consumer's consent.

—Repeal Ohio's fair trade law a product of the 1930s depression that permits manufacturers to set minimum retail prices.

It is unlikely that all these bills will pass without revisions. Most of them have opposition of one kind or another.

The proposal to give patrons of dance studios, health clubs, dating bureaus and martial arts gymnasiums samples of the service is opposed by the businesses. The bill is in the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Both labor unions and container manufacturers have voice opposition to the pull-tab ban in the House Energy and Environment Committee, while another that would only require a deposit on nonreturnable containers has not been referred to a committee.

Current Liquor Control Commission regulations require that retailers mark up the sale price of beer 25 per cent. Wine manufacturers must mark up 18 per cent, distributors another 33 per cent and retailers by 50 cents a bottle or 40 per cent a case over cost.

That means that a bottle of wine that cost the manufacturer $2 to produce would be at least $4.71 on the retail shelf.

The Ohio Bar Association opposes the bill that bans lawyers in Small Claims Court on the grounds that better-educated citizens would be better able to present their cases than poor or less educated persons. It has not taken a position on another bill that would require Small Claims Court to hold Saturday and evening hours, and would make it more difficult to transfer small claims cases to higher courts where lawyers almost always are used. Three bills dealing with the subject are in the House Judiciary Committee.

The Ohio Homes Builders Association opposes abolition of the mechanics lien law on behalf of small contractors whom the association said can not afford to wait on court suits against prime contractors.

Cleveland Man Wins Lottery; Young, Self-Made Millionaire

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — George Fertig is a self-made millionaire. The 35-year-old Cleveland resident had last pick in Ohio's fourth lottery millionaire drawing Saturday and he avoided his number in the double-elimination contest.

His choice dropped Jo Anne Wallace, 42, of Cincinnati out of the running for the top prize. She had to settle for second prize of $100,000.

"Dad always told me to marry a millionaire," said Fertig's slim, shaking wife, Grace, who barely managed a smile.

Fertig, a recorder for Republic Steel Corp., had no idea what he would do with his winnings. He will receive $50,000 a year for 20 years.

The father of two enjoys fishing, bowling and golf.

Mrs. Wallace, a divorced mother of two, said one of her first purchases would be a new car. She works for General Motors assembly division.

Another Cincinnati resident, Raymond Rice, won third prize of $50,000. The 49-year-old postal supervisor said he had no idea he would get to the finals and had made no plans for the money.

Although four persons from out of state were among the 100 contestants Saturday, none made it to the finals. Seven other persons won $10,000 each.

They were identified by lottery officials as April Cottenmyre of Dayton, Ronald McGaskey of Barberton, Ruth Gaylor, of Dayton, Louise Hook of Springfield, Sandor Pal of Cleveland, Frank Stansberry of Cincinnati and Shirley Sibetich of Conneaut.

Ten persons won $2,000 each and the 80 others were to receive $1,000 each. The contestants came from the lottery's weekly $20 winners. The millionaire drawing is held each time 30 million tickets are sold or about every two months.

Toledo Dean Switches Posts

Campaign Reforms Called 'Arrogance'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Many proposed campaign reform measures stemming from the post-Watergate period are based on a "moral arrogance that conceals a very large class bias on the part of an educated elite," David Broder, national political reporter for the Washington Post, told Denison University graduates Saturday.

Young people should adopt a critical and skeptical, but not cynical attitude toward the political system of the United States, the Pulitzer Prize winning columnist told the 450 seniors at the Granville, Ohio, school.

In 1974, "the heightened sensitivity to campaign finances and campaign tactics produced an election in which the substantive issues were subordinated almost entirely to the question of which candidate could prove more convincingly that he or she was clean. It occurred to few voters apparently that a person might be devoid of conflicts of interest and at the same time be devoid of qualifications for public office," Broder said.

Broder received an honorary doctor of laws degree at Saturday's commencement.

In other graduations around the state this past weekend, former Oregon congresswoman Edith Green told 266 Muskingum College graduates they should reject "slogans, easy answers and oversimplifications." Conceding that discontent breeds

Air Guard Jet Crash Probed

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — An Air Force team is probing the cause of the crash Saturday of an Ohio Air National Guard F100-D plane in rural northeastern Scioto County.

The plane came down about 18 miles east of Portsmouth, but the pilot, David Wheeler, 30, of Cincinnati, was able to eject safely and suffered only minor injuries in parachuting to the ground.

Wheeler is attached to the 178th Tactical Fighter Group stationed at Springfield Municipal Airport. An Air Guard spokesman said he was on a training flight when the accident occurred.

Bob Evans Farms Shows Increase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Bob Evans Farms, Inc., reported consolidated sales totaling $47,918,484 for the fiscal year ended April 25.

That marks an increase of 18 per cent over the $40,550,743 in fiscal 1974 sales, said board chairman Daniel E. Evans.

Net income was $2,479,631, or $3 per share compared to $1,968,090 or $2.41 a share a year earlier for the sausage company.

Final quarter dividends for the fiscal year were 15 cents per share, payable to stockholders of record May 16.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Dad And Sons Should Go Fishing

DEAR ABBY: Each year my husband and our teenage sons spend a week up north fishing. They love it. I hate it. I wish my husband and the boys would go without me, but when I mention it, my husband says, "No, we'll just skip it this year because Mom doesn't want to go." The boys are disappointed and Mom is the heavy.

Abby, before we had children, I went fishing with my husband so he would have companionship, and I plan to do it again when the children are gone. When the boys were small I went without complaint because I felt I was needed; small boys could at times be more problems than pleasure for a man on a week's fishing trip.

But the boys are not children now, and they couldn't care less whether I went along or not. The fishing week is the high spot of their year. And it's my absolute lowest.

Am I wrong to want to stay home? It would be a great vacation for me not having to cook, wash or iron. Help me, Abby, They believe in you.

ALL FISHED OUT

DEAR FISHED: IMPORE Dad to let you off the hook this time. You've earned your stay-at-home vacation. (P.S. To the men in your house: "DON'T NAG-GO STAG!")

DEAR ABBY: I read a letter in your column from a woman who couldn't bring herself to spend the inheritance money her mother had left her. The reason: When she (the daughter) was struggling with a young family to make ends meet, her mother (who could have well afforded it) gave her no help at all.

Years later, when the daughter no longer needed anything, her mother died and left her a small fortune.

Her letter prompts mine: My late husband used to say, "It is better to give with warm hands." (Meaning: "while one is alive.") He practiced that philosophy all his life and loved to give.

Now that he is gone, I am giving to my children and grandchildren "with warm hands," which gives them much pleasure. But to be perfectly honest, I am selfish, because when I give to them, my pleasure is far greater than theirs.

SELFISH GRANDMA

DEAR GRANDMA: What this world needs is more of your brand of "selfishness." (P.S. Besides, it might be one way to reduce the inheritance tax.)

DEAR ABBY: I noticed a letter in your column from a minister who complained because after he had officiated at burial services for people who didn't even belong to his church, their families failed to pay him for his services.

I don't know how other folks handle it, but here in Tacoma, Wash., the funeral director just adds $25 to the cost of the funeral, and pays the minister without bothering the family.

Not long ago, I received a letter from an elderly couple who was making funeral arrangements in advance. Enclosed was a check for $25 with the following note: "We want to be buried together. This should cover it."

Movie Westerns Making Comeback

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Is the movie western ready to stage a comeback? Signs on the dusty horizon indicate that it is.

The horse opera has been undergoing one of its periodic slumps in recent times. Even the redoubtable John Wayne has had to don modern clothes ("Brannigan") to find film vehicles.

But the western manages to stage a revival every five years, and a new cycle may be starting.

Richard Brooks has fashioned a crackerjack tale of a crosscountry horse race in "Bite the Bullet."

Early reports on "Rooster Cogburn" indicate it is hot enough to warrant a John Wayne-Katharine Hepburn rematch.

Director Tom Gries is taking Charles Bronson out west again in a railroad film, "Breakheart Pass."

"Yes, I think the pendulum is swinging back to the western," agrees Kirk Douglas, who has done his bit by producing, directing and co-starring in

Services Slated For Missing Man

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Memorial services are scheduled Wednesday for Walter Mayo, 39, who was presumed drowned last February when he crash landed a twin-engine private plane in the Ohio River near Portsmouth.

Witnesses said they saw Mayo try to swim to shore and sink under the water. His body was never recovered.

Highway Patrol Cite Hit-Skip Driver, Recover Motorcycle

A busy weekend for the officers at the State Highway Patrol Post 68 resulted in the arrest of a hit-skip driver and the recovery of a stolen motorcycle.

Coeducational Dormitories Set At Miami

OXFORD, Ohio (AP)—Students at Miami University next year will have the option to participate in a coeducational residence experiment in two dormitories. The Miami University Board of Trustees Sunday approved a floor-by-floor coeducational dormitory experiment for next year but curtailed weekend visiting hours.

The board resolution approved the experiment for two residence halls in which men and women will be assigned to alternate floors at Flower and Hahne Halls.

Dr. Robert Etheridge, vice president for student affairs, said last year's experiment with coed living in suites in two smaller residence halls proved "a satisfactory social and educational experience for the residents of those halls."

The board rescinded, however, the 2 a.m. to 4 a.m. visitation periods in residence rooms for Saturday and Sunday mornings. The board said the current program was only "minimally satisfactory."

The board said there had been a "lack of responsibility exercised by a significant number of students in complying with the sign-in procedure and the privilege that it permits."

The resolution added: "The board of trustees reaffirms its policy that a resident's right to the use of a residence hall room takes precedence over a roommate's desire to entertain guests privately."

In other action, the board approved a tentative record budget of $56,404,225 which draws $606,661 from reserves.

President Phillip R. Shriver said the deficit resulted from pay raises coupled with reallocation of state funds by the Ohio Legislature.

Ptl. Charles Dobb filed an affidavit this morning in Circleville Municipal Court against Richard E. Wanner, 25, Gahanna, for leaving the scene of an accident.

The accident occurred at 4:15 p.m. on Route 104 on May 23. As a result of having his motorcycle forced off the road by Wanner's truck, Dean Williams, 28, Chillicothe, lost his leg. At that time, the Patrol had few leads.

Another Patrolman did, however, stop a truck on Route 23 fitting the description of the hit and run vehicle and took the driver's name and the company's name for which he worked.

Ptl. Dobb said this morning that he was getting ready to follow that lead when he received a call from the company's attorney. The attorney advised Ptl. Dobb that the company had found that Wanner's truck had been involved in an accident and he admitted losing a mirror on Route 104.

The time and date matched the statistics on the accident and Ptl. Dobb went to Columbus to check the Vampco Metal Products' truck. He was able to link the vehicle with the accident and subsequently cited Wanner.

Wanner was returning to Columbus from Chillicothe where Vampco was doing some work at the Veterans Administration Hospital.

Also during the weekend, another patrolman recovered a motorcycle that had been stolen from Marysville in the early morning hours of May 29.

A man who was walking along Route 23, approximately three miles north of Circleville, noticed the cycle along the side of the road. He then went to the Highway Patrol Post and reported it.

Ptl. L. E. Gilbert dispatched to the scene and found the cycle partly submerged in the creek. He then called Davis Marathon from South Bloomfield. The cycle was pulled from the creek and Gilbert checked the registration, finding that it had been reported stolen.

Davis Marathon has possession of the cycle at present. It is expected to be released today to the owner, Hubert B. Thompson.

Demos Predict Control

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Two major Republican party strongholds will come under Democratic control in November, the chairman of the Indiana Democratic Party said Saturday. William K. Trisler predicted Democratic mayoral victories in Indianapolis and Evansville, where the chief executives are Republicans. Robert V. Welch is the Democratic candidate in Indianapolis and State Rep. Jeff Hays is the party nominee in Evansville. Trisler made the predictions at a municipal government workshop in Indianapolis sponsored by the Democratic State Central Committee.

1040 U.S. Individual Income Tax Return Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

(Q.) How soon will the IRS be sending out rebate checks to taxpayers:

(A.) The IRS estimates that the first rebate checks were mailed on May 9. The bulk of the mailing should be completed by the end of June. Taxpayers who filed in March and April may receive one check covering both refund and rebate.

(Q.) How is the tax rebate figured?

(A.) Under the new legislation the maximum rebate is 10 per cent of tax liability up to a maximum rebate of $200, reduced in most cases by one per cent of adjusted gross income in excess of $20,000, up to $30,000. In most cases, taxpayers with adjusted gross income of more than $30,000 will receive a maximum rebate of $100. Married taxpayers filing separately with adjusted gross income over $30,000 will receive a rebate of $50. Those who had a tax liability of less than $100 will receive a rebate equal to the tax liability. Married persons filing separately will not generally get rebates that, together, exceed the $200 maximum allowed for those filing jointly since, under the law, the maximum rebate for a married person filing separately is $100.

(Q.) Although I had very little in expenses for medicines and doctor bills last year, can I still deduct the money I paid for medical insurance premiums?

(A.) Yes. On line 1 of Schedule A, Itemized Deductions, you can enter one half but not more than $150 of insurance premiums for medical care. On line 5, you can report the balance of insurance premiums for medical care not entered on line 1. The total of these lines computed with any other medical expenses you have to report should be entered on line 10 of Schedule A, and on line 35 of your Form 1040 as the instructions indicate.

Keep America beautiful, but keep America alive!

Some of America's most beautiful resort areas lie along the Atlantic Coast. And no one wants to mar their beauty. It's much too valuable a natural resource.

But, there's another tremendously valuable natural resource over the horizon along the Atlantic Coast. Energy. Energy that is desperately needed to help ease our nation's worsening energy crisis.

We must not sacrifice one resource for the other.

And we needn't. Modern techniques for under-water drilling and delivery of fuel have eliminated the danger of permanent environmental damage. An offshore drilling rig won't even be seen from the shore. And offshore production will reduce the need for increased tanker traffic.

All domestic sources of energy must be developed to meet our growing national fuel needs. The potential of the Atlantic outer continental shelf is great and can be realized in an environmentally safe manner. The Atlantic coast areas depend on a prosperous America. And a prosperous America depends on energy.

Since 1968, Columbia Gas has been participating in costly geophysical surveys off the Atlantic Coast. The tests range from North Carolina to Nova Scotia. We've also joined a 25 million dollar drilling exploration program off Canada's east coast, a promising source of clean, natural gas to help ease the energy crisis.

COLUMBIAGAS

Gas is precious, pure energy... use it wisely.

Ryan Sets Mark; Blanks Birds

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer
The crowd of 18,492 was screaming with every pitch Nolan Ryan threw. Ruth Ryan watched her husband from the stands, tensing with each delivery. Even his California Angels teammates felt the pressure.

But not Ryan. While everyone around him was swept up in the excitement, the flamethrowing right-hander was cool as ice as he etched his niche in baseball's record books with the fourth no-hitter of his career.

"It's just something that happens," said Ryan, whose 1-0 masterpiece against the Baltimore Orioles Sunday put him alongside Sandy Koufax as the only pitchers in major league history with four no-hitters. "I never give it a lot of thought — really I don't."

Elsewhere in the American League, Detroit split with Chicago, winning 5-1 and losing 3-2; Kansas City swept Milwaukee 13-6 and 11-5; Boston outscored Minnesota 11-9; Oakland beat Cleveland 6-3, and New York defeated Texas, 8-4.

Maybe Ryan wasn't thinking no-hitter, but everyone around him was. The fans at Anaheim Stadium, who began buzzing in the middle innings, started to roar in the eighth. Ryan's teammates on the youthful Angels felt the excitement.

The 28-year-old Ryan, whose no-hitter was the first of the 1975 season, pitched the major leagues' last no-hitter as well, stopping Minnesota 4-0 last Sept. 28. His others were in 1973, a 3-0 victory over Kansas City May 15 and a 6-0 triumph over Detroit July 15, 1973.

The Angels got Ryan the only run he needed in the third inning on two-out

Ohio Classic Track Meet Winds Up

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sprinters Lamar Prey of Trotwood Madison and Jeff Phillips of Columbus Whitehall helped their teams to some of the glory in the rain-drenched 12th annual Ohio Classic track meet Saturday night.

Prey won the 100-yard dash in 10.2 seconds and the 220 in 22.0 to become the only double winner in the meet in suburban Worthington.

Phillips, the muscular junior who won the 100 in 9.5 in the state meet a week ago, ran only three events Saturday, but two of them were winning efforts for his team.

The Rams set a meet record in the 440 relay with 43.6 and won the 880 relay with 1:30.1. Phillips anchored both teams and later ran a 440 leg on the mile relay, which placed sixth.

The other meet record was set by Gahanna Lincoln as Tim Van Cleave, Tim Lyons, Scott Chesser and Brad Ranney lowered the two-mile relay standard to 7:57.0. The old mark was 8:03.6 set by Euclid last year.

Mark Butler of Toledo Rogers equalled the meet's half-mile run mark with 1:54.0.

National Football League rosters show 34 former University of Southern California players. Penn State is next with 28 and Ohio State third with 23.

singles by Mickey Rivers, Tommy Harper and Dave Chalk.

Royals 13-11, Brewers 6-5

John Mayberry homered, drove in six runs and scored five as the Royals punted Milwaukee hurlers for 24 runs in the doubleheader.

The Brewers' Hank Aaron, the home run king, rapped four singles in the twinbill to tie Stan Musial for second place on the all-time hit list with 3,630.

Also, Lolich's three strikeouts put him one ahead of Bob Feller for sixth place on the all-time list with 2,582 and left him just one behind Warren Spahn among all left-handers.

Chicago pulled out the second game when Deron Johnson walked with the bases loaded in the fifth inning, forcing home the winning run.

Giants Hammer Expos, 13-5

By HOWARD SMITH
AP Sports Writer

It isn't often that Bobby Murcer and Dusty Baker hit two home runs in a game. The Montreal Expos and Pittsburgh Pirates could have waited one more game for them to do it.

Murcer belted a pair of two-run homers at windy Jarry Park to help the San Francisco Giants pound the Expos 13-5 Sunday while Baker hit a pair of solo shots to lead the Atlanta Braves past the Pirates 5-2.

"That was the first time I hit two home runs this year," said Murcer who has seven on the year. "They don't come too often."

Baker, who has never hit more than 21 in a season but has 10 already this year, insisted: "Really, I don't start hitting home runs until after the All-Star break. This is the third time I've hit two consecutive homers in the majors. I know my stroke is all right when I hit line drives like that."

Elsewhere in the National League, Philadelphia edged Houston 5-4, San Diego blanked New York 4-0, Chicago whipped Los Angeles 7-2 and Cincinnati downed St. Louis 5-1.

The Giants struck for 10 runs over the final three innings. By that time, though, Expos' starter Dave McNally was showered and dressed. He worked five innings and gave up three runs.

Willie Montanez also homered for the Giants while Larry Parrish, Gary Carter, Pete Mackanin and Mike Jorgensen connected for Montreal.

Baker's home runs helped Atlanta knuckleballer Phil Niekro raise his record to 5-4 with a 10-hitter. Niekro, Darrell Evans and Ralph Garr all contributed run-scoring singles.

Phillies 5, Astros 4
Philadelphia built a 5-0 lead after five innings, then held on behind Larry Christianson's 3 1-3 innings of scoreless relief. Greg Luzinski and Mike Anderson each doubled home a run and Jay Johnstone homered for the Phils. Tommy Helms had a two-run single for Houston.

Padres 4, Mets 0

San Diego got two runs in the first inning on a pair of walks, a sacrifice, a wild pitch and an error, and the Mets never recovered.

Alan Foster, 3-1, and Danny Frisella combined on a sevenhitter. Mike Ivie singled in one insurance run in the eighth and Dave Winfield doubled home another in the ninth.

Cubs 7, Dodgers 2

Manny Trillo hit a two-run single, Andy Thorton homered and Steve Swisher drove in two runs with a triple and a sacrifice fly as Chicago regained first place in the East Division. Bill Bonham, 5-4, got the win and former Cub Burt Hooton, 3-5, took the loss.

Reds 5, Cards 1

Joe Morgan clubbed a three-run homer and Johnny Bench added a two-run double to power Cincinnati to its ninth victory in the last 10 games. Jack Billingham, 5-3, stopped St. Louis on five hits. The victory pulled the Reds within a halfgame of first-place Los Angeles in the West.

Viking Girl Wins 880 In State Meet

Perri Martin of Teays Valley High School won the 880-yard run in the State Track Meet Saturday at Ohio State University.

The Viking sophomore burned up the track with a time of 2:25.1 to win the event. This is the first year that a girls State meet has been held.

Perri qualified for the State Meet when she won the 880 in the District Meet at Upper Arlington. She was also a member of the 880 relay team and performed in the high jump in the District but failed to qualify in either of these events.

Kim Martin, Perri's sister, placed eighth in the shot in the State Meet with a toss of 34 feet 8 1/4 inches. She had gained a berth in the State when she placed second in the District Meet at Upper Arlington. Kim is a senior at Teays Valley.

This is only Perri's second year in track and from all indications she certainly has a bright future in the sport.

Both girls are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Porter Martin Jr., Route 5, Circleville.

A-C Trackster 3rd In State

Jackie Casto of Amanda-Clearcreek High School placed third in the shot in the girls' Class A State Track Meet at Ohio State University.

She hurled the shot 37 feet 4 inches while the winning throw covered a distance of 40 feet.

Jackie qualified for the State by placing second in the District Meet at Gahanna.

She also won the shot and discus title in the Mid-State League Meet at Lancaster.

Kathy Whitworth Grabs LPGA Crown

BALTIMORE (AP) — It was a week to remember for Kathy Whitworth — or will be, when she finally has time to reflect and realizes what happened.

Six days after being inducted into the Ladies Professional Golfers Association Hall of Fame, the veteran campaigner came from behind to win her third prestigious LPGA Championship.

"It's hard to believe I'm in the Hall of Fame," Miss Whitworth said after a birdie putt on the 17th green gave her a one-stroke victory Sunday over Sandra Haynie in the 72-hole tournament.

"It really hasn't soaked in yet," she added. "It may be two or three weeks before it really comes to me. I'm still numb."

Understandably, Miss Whitworth's 73rd tournament title didn't shake her up quite as much.

"Life changes," she said. "This wasn't like my first win, or the second, or the third. Or, even like the first LPGA championship."

With a four-under-par 288 over the municipally-owned Pine Ridge course, the all-time LPGA money winner earned $8,000 and upped her career total to $554,781.

Miss Haynie, who also was seeking her third LPGA title, opened the final round in a tie with Miss Whitworth after making up four strokes on the 36-hole leader on Saturday. The $5,650 she got for finishing at 289 ran her career total to $415,193.

Young JoAnn Washam ran off four straight birdies through the 17th hole to finish third at 290 after shooting 71 on Sunday, followed by Donna Caponi Young at 291 and Carol Mann at 292.

Sandra Palmer, the leading money winner this year, ran her 1975 earnings to $47,582 after picking up $1,875 for a 293 that tied her with Sandra Spuzich and Jocelyn Bourassa.

Oakland Surprises Cleveland; Wins 6-3

OAKLAND (AP) — You really couldn't blame Cleveland Indians' Manager Frank Robinson for feeling a little bewildered following the conclusion of a three-game series with the Oakland A's.

Robinson's pitchers limited the heart of the Oakland lineup — Reggie Jackson, Sal Bando, Joe Rudi, Billy Williams and Gene Tenace — to a mere four hits in 48 at-bats, a paltry .083 production.

But the pesky A's rallied around Claudell Washington, Phil Garner and Campy Campaneris to post a 6-3 victory Sunday over Gaylord Perry, 6-7, thereby taking the series 2-1.

Oakland, which is an unbeaten 8-0-1 in nine home series, hosts the Milwaukee Brewers in the opener of a three-game set tonight. Ace left-hander Vida Blue tries for his 10th victory.

"Anytime you stop Oakland's big five, like we did this weekend, you've gotta win the series," said Robinson. "I'm not knocking guys like Washington, Garner and Campy, but they're not supposed to beat you. But that's a pretty tough lineup from top to bottom — the best in the league."

Washington's two-run homer in the fifth inning provided the winning runs. Garner collected three hits and Campaneris knocked in a pair of runs.

Washington broke up a tight 3-2 game with his fourth homer of the season, following Tenace's two-out walk in the fifth.

He lifted his team-leading average to .309 and for the sixth time this season either won a game or placed the A's ahead to stay.

"I feel I'm starting to get into a groove," said Washington. "I'm becoming a better hitter because I'm getting to know the pitchers and have an idea what to expect from them."

Garner, batting ninth, boosted his average to .250 and continued to play well at second base on a day in which five Cleveland errors contributed to four Oakland runs.

"I don't mind batting ninth on this club — where else is there room?" asked Garner. "Actually, I have lots of chances to get big hits and pick up runs-batted-in because there are always guys on base."

Sonny Siebert survived a shaky start to run his record to 2-0 for the A's after three starts. Rollie Fingers pitched the last four innings and notched his fifth save.

Hale Irwin Wins Atlanta Golf Tilt

ATLANTA (AP) — "All he had to do was coast around," said Charles Coody. "Nobody took a run at him."

Hale Irwin, the 1974 U.S. Open champion, accomplished his goal Sunday and coasted to an easy four-shot victory in the $225,000 Atlanta Golf Classic.

"I went out with the distinct impression I had to shoot a 69 today,"

State Prep Baseball Tourney Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The busiest school year in Ohio's 68 seasons of scholastic competition comes to a close this week with the rain-delayed state boys baseball tournament.

And Harold Meyer, the commissioner of the governing Ohio High School Athletic Association, couldn't be happier, especially with the way the first girls track meet unfolded.

"We've never had a state championship greeted with such enthusiasm by the contestants. The response of the girls themselves was wonderful," said Meyer after the girls meet Saturday in Ohio Stadium.

The baseball today and Tuesday at Ohio State marked the 10th Ohio tournament for the boys. The girls had two state meets and will add volleyball and basketball in 1975-76.

The baseball semifinals today were postponed Friday because of rain.

In the Class AAA pairings, Columbus West (27-1) faced Dayton Chaminade-Julienne (37-8) while Parma Senior (12-15) went against Youngstown Chaney (18-6).

In the Class AA semifinals, Columbus St. Charles (21-5) played Hamilton Badin (30-7) and Medina Buckeye (21-7) tangled with Bryan (9-10). In Class A, it was Lucasville Valley (25-0) vs. West Salem North-western (19-8) and Old Fort (19-5) vs. Russia (16-4).

The championship games are scheduled Tuesday.

Crappie Fishing Among The Best

By JIM DAUBEL
Written for Associated Press

The tiny cork float ducked below the surface twice then disappeared faster than I could announce "another fish on."

With a gentle snap of the wrist I snubbed the line tight and set the hook. The long limber fly rod arched deeply as it strained to resist the powerful surges of the flat, broad fish with the tissue paper mouth.

Within seconds the hand-size crappie tired and I swung it aboard to join a half-dozen others iced in 15 minutes of fishing.

Springtime crappie fishing can produce some of the fastest action imaginable in Ohio waters.

Crappies are plentiful in lakes and streams of the Buckeye State. Black crappies are found in some of the less turbid impoundments, but the lighter colored white crappie predominates statewide.

Fortunately for the angler, some of the choicest crappie habitat is well-marked, owing to the species' instinctive desire for protective cover.

In spring, especially, when crappies tend to congregate in large schools, look for them in the submerged branches of overhanging trees, around heavier sunken timber or in brush piles near shore.

There is no single can't-miss technique for catching crappies, but thinking small invariably enhances whatever method you use.

In the live bait category, minnows are hard to beat simply because they are far and away the favorite prey of both white and black crappies.

Use small or light terminal tackle so the bait can swim around as naturally as possible.

I like a fine wire hook in sizes six or eight tied to eight or 10-pound monofilament which is strung on a light action fly rod. An inexpensive reel will suffice. Its only function is to store the line. Lighter monofilament will work, but it is hard to handle on a fly rod and breaks too readily in the type of cover you should be fishing.

About a foot above the hook crimp on a small splitshot just large enough to sink the bait. Affix a small cork float to the line at a depth that will bob the bait near bottom.

The rest is easy. Slip the hook through the minnow's upper back behind the dorsal fin and dunk — don't cast — the bait around cover in five to 10 feet of water.

Among top-producing artificials are leadhead jigs in onesixteenth of an ounce or smaller. Use two, one as a dropper from your main line, and fish with ultralight tackle. Cast to cover, let the jigs sink near bottom and retrieve with an erratic motion.

Another good choice is a light, colored, slowly sinking streamer or hair bug cast with a fly rod, floating line and eight-pound test leader. It should be worked with a jerky retrieve just under the surface.

New Orleans Thinclads Win NCAA Division Title

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Southern University-New Orleans track team rode elbow to elbow from New Orleans to Cleveland for the second annual NCAA Division III Track and Field Championship and then broke out to capture the national crown.

"We drove 1,000 miles in a van that seats 15," said Joe Franklin, one of their leading sprinters. "The two coaches and 11 runners. We were so close together for so long it seemed like I was getting to the point that if anybody touched me I'd start a fight with them."

Franklin won the 100 and 220-yard dashes and anchored the team's victory in the 440-yard relay.

Southwest Ohio Holds Wealth Of Historic Attractions

EDITOR'S NOTE—This year, consider taking your family on an inexpensive and rewarding trip that's only a day or weekend away. Ohio, a state rich in history, nature, industry, entertainment and culture offers a little something for everyone at a cost all can afford. And with America's Bicentennial year rapidly approaching, now is the perfect time to "get away into Ohio's yesterdays."

From the dawn of civilization and the early days of Ohio's statehood, to the contemporary bustle of modern-day towns, southwestern Ohio holds a wealth of historic, cultural and natural attractions, that are sure to delight every member of your family this summer.

Start your tour of this area with the warm hospitality Adena has been offering to visitors for over 100 years.

Situated just north of Chillicothe, atop a hill which overlooks the five sandstone-peaked hills which inspired the design of The Great Seal of Ohio, Adena is the former residence of Ohio's sixth governor, Thomas Worthington.

Worthington, a native Virginian, was anxious to build a home that would resemble the fine plantation homes he had left behind, and one that would be large enough to accommodate his ten children, and sizeable staff of servants.

In 1807, Adena was born, and now, in 1975, it stands just as it did. Extensive research through diaries, manuscripts, correspondence and even carpenter's bills and receipts, has enabled the Ohio Historical Society to restore the building to the way it looked when Worthington and his family were in residence.

Costumed interpreters are on hand to greet you as you enter the Georgian-style mansion house, and to briefly explain Adena's colorful past. You learn that Adena has played host to many guests who figured in America's history, including the two great Shawnee chiefs, Tecumseh and Blue Jacket. Tecumseh, during his visit presented Worthington with a tomahawk, which is still on display in the Governor's library.

Now, you are free to tour the house and grounds.

Run your hand over the rich, native walnut paneling, and take your time to study the clever tapestries, which are still being reproduced today by some of the interpreters. Examine the lovely marble fireplace, and the furniture, much of which was made on the estate by local carpenters, in the Hepplewhite and Sheraton style, so popular in the 18th century.

Then, wander through the stately dining room, where the table is set with fine examples of early china and glassware. Admire the rotating shelf units in the back wall which enabled servants to serve the food, and clear the table more efficiently.

Cross the hall to the kitchen, where an interpreter will point out the small, wire basket which was used to make toast, and explain the Jeffersonian that fill the room. In the adjacent pantry you'll see a collection of the large pitchers and crocks used during the period.

Upstairs are the family's hand-somely-furnished bedrooms, the more intimate ball room, and not far from the children's rooms, the small, empty "crying-room" where the children were put when they were punished.

When you've explored the house from top to bottom, go outside and stroll through the house's restored semi-formal gardens, offering, again, a bit of Worthington's native Virginia.

Explore the estate's several out-buildings — the smokehouse, where you can still smell the delicious hickory aroma of fresh-cured hams and bacon; the wash house; the cool, dark springhouse, where butter and milk were kept, the servant's quarters; and the spacious barn which still houses a collection of sheep, cows and horses, all of which wander the estate

Seek Backpackers In Mountain Area

SUNFLOWER, Ariz. (AP) — Maricopa County sheriff's deputies planned to continue their search today for two backpackers, including an Ohio man, who have been missing for more than a month.

Doug Blackwell, of Lima, Ohio, and Steven Bennett of Phoenix, Ariz., were reported missing Friday by Bennett's sister after Bennett's dog turned up in Sunflower.

Bennett's dog was never more than 10 feet from him, according to relatives, prompting the search, a sheriff's department spokesman said.

ADENA GARDEN—A costumed Adena guide stops to admire a flower in the large formal garden near the mansion house. Adena, located near Chillicothe, is one of many attractions operated by the Ohio Historical Society.

during daylight hours.

Adena is open 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily except Monday. The fee is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children under 13 or free with parent.

Then, for another look at Ohio's history, this time through the red-man's eyes, go see "Tecumseh", an outdoor drama presented Tuesday through Sunday, June 24-September 1 at the Sugarloaf Mountain Amphitheater.

The Amphitheater sits in the heart of what once was Indian country. The path leading to the semi-circular theater was, at one time, a trail blazed by the Indians. Behind the theater lie the rolling hills of the Pickaway Plains.

"Tecumseh" traces the life of the great Shawnee chief, depicting major events in his life, until his death in 1812. It's a story about the love of an Indian for his land and his people. The performances run nightly at 8:45 p.m. Admission for adults is $4. Children under 13 pay $3.

Southwest Ohio offers a number of parks and recreational areas for campers. Among the best is Scioto Trail, on US 23, then half a mile to the east on SR 372. Scioto Trail offers 248 acres of natural beauty for the budget-minded traveler, in addition to riding, fishing and boating. Or try Sun Valley Lake, 8 miles on US 35.

Before leaving the area, spend a few moments learning and seeing how people lived tens of thousands of years ago by visiting the Mound City National Monument. One of the state's finest examples of the Hopewell Indian Culture, it is located four miles north of Chillicothe on S.R. 104. A modern, well-equipped visitor center houses a museum which will orient you to the Indian mounds outside. You can either survey the mounds from the observation deck, which affords an outstanding view of the entire area, while you hear a brief-recorded history of the mounds, or walk the marked nature trails around the earthworks, providing a close-up look at these interesting ceremonial places. Open daily 8:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. it's free to the public.

Seip Mound, on U.S. 50 near Bainbridge, is another giant burial mound of the Hopewells, featuring an open exhibit pavilion presenting the history of Seip Mound. A dig, an excavation in progress, offers the opportunity to actually see the Ohio Historical Society's archeology staff at work.

Be sure, too, to stop at Fort Hill, probably one of the most scenic spots in Southwest Ohio. Fort Hill, located on S.R. 41 in Highland County, offers 1000 acres of deep woods, and a modern museum which displays exhibits of Ohio's prehistoric inhabitants. Picnic facilities are available, and nature trails offer a relaxing way of following in our first ancestors' footsteps.

Thundershowers Linger In U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Thundershowers lingered in the northwestern, central and southeastern states today while most other regions enjoyed clear skies.

A flash flood warning for north and south central Oregon was canceled early today as thunderstorms that had been stationary there picked up speed.

The rainfall was less than an inch in most places.

Thundershowers were widely scattered over parts of Florida, the South Carolina and Gulf coasts, Northern California, Nevada, Texas and Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri and Central Illinois.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 41 at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., to 89 Phoenix, Ariz.

Miller Denies Walkouts Used For Pressure

PITTSBURGH (AP)—United Mine Workers President Arnold Miller denies his union is using wildcat strikes to achieve goals it failed to win at the bargaining table last fall.

Instead, coal operators are encouraging such strikes by trying to arbitrate terms that are "clearly spelled out" in the 1974 agreement, Miller contended on a weekend visit here.

"The attitude of the coal operators is antagonizing our people. It simply is not going to get the job done. It is not going to achieve labor peace," Miller said.

As an example, Miller cited a recent 44-day dispute that idled over 8,000 UMW members at 30 mines in Ohio and West Virginia.

The walkout started at North American Coal Co. when mine management assigned additional duties to a roof-bolt operators' helper.

The union objected and the company wanted to arbitrate, but Miller said the company was in violation of the helper clause negotiated by the industry.

"But the rest of the industry didn't have the brass to tell the company it was wrong," Miller said.

"The helper clause is clearly spelled out. There is no need to arbitrate."

Because of the strike, a suit was filed in an effort to make the UMW international officers responsible for all wildcat strikes in any subdivision of the union.

Miller said the reason the union insisted on the helper clause was to insure the industry will have to train new men to take over when 10,000 current miners become eligible for pensions in 1976.

"How can you train a roof bolter when he is 100 feet away doing something else," Miller said.

"The result will be that we won't have trained help when we need it," he added.

Miller was in Pittsburgh for a dinner honoring William Finley, first black ever elected to the executive board of UMW District 5, based in Pittsburgh.

Russia To Continue Feed Imports

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department said today that the Soviet Union is fully committed to putting more meat, poultry and milk on consumer tables and will have to keep importing livestock feed to do so.

"Soviet plans to expand livestock numbers and products appear to be an irreversible commitment that will be maintained at all costs," the department's Foreign Agricultural Service said.

The report, in a weekly issue of "Foreign Agriculture" published by the agency, said that despite important increases in Soviet feed grain production, the gains are still falling short of requirements.

"Consequently, the Soviet Union is expected to be an important buyer of grains — notably feed grains and soybeans — on world markets," the report said. It was written by A. Paul Danyluk, assistant U.S. agricultural attaché in Moscow.

The Soviet Union "is expected to nearly maintain its self-sufficiency in wheat, with the exception of small quantities imported for blending" with its own bread grain, the report said.

A decision to stick with a plan to boost livestock production despite a severely reduced grain harvest in 1972 led to massive imports of wheat and feed grains three years ago. Much lower-quality wheat is used for animal feed by Soviet farmers.

Russia imported about $1 billion worth of U.S. commodities, mostly wheat and corn, in the 1972-73 fiscal year and another $590 million worth in 1973-74. Shipments have slipped to an estimated $400 million this fiscal year but are expected to increase to around $50 million in the 1975-76 year beginning July 1.

Much depends, however, on the outcome of the 1975 Soviet harvest, tentatively estimated two months ago by USDA experts at 210 million metric tons, second only to the huge 1973 crop of 222.5 million.

In his report, Danyluk said that to meet its five-year average goal, the Soviet Union would need to produce at least 208 million tons this year, a mark he said is "fairly realistic" at the present time.

There has been concern, however, that dry weather this spring in part of the Soviet grain area may reduce 1975 production and possibly trigger some increase in purchases on the world market.

Danyluk said that "so far, prospects are fairly good that the grain production target can be met" by Soviet farmers.

In another report by the USDA agency, officials said that "world crop prospects appear favorable at this time" generally, including the outlook in North America and Europe.

Rate Hikes Attacked

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Former United States Interior Secretary Stewart Udall has urged consumers to fight utility rate hikes before regulatory bodies. "If you don't fight rate increases before public regulatory bodies, you are going to lose," Udall said Saturday at the opening of a Citizens Energy Conference here.

Man Drowns In Canal

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — An unidentified man drowned Sunday after jumping into the Indianapolis Water Company canal from the Michigan Street bridge, police said. Witnesses told police the man jumped into the canal about 2:30 a.m. Police scuba divers recovered the fully clothed body about an hour later. An autopsy is to be performed today, police said.

Republicans and Democrats in Circleville will decide the candidates for mayor, solicitor, council and auditor in the November General election when they go to the polls Tuesday for the primary election.

Board of Elections officials remind city residents that the polls will be open 6:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m.

A spirited race between two republicans for the mayor's position will take place.

Frank Barnhill, incumbent is opposed by Jack W. Mills. Barnhill, 53, seeking a second four-year term, was a council member for eight years before claiming the mayor's ranks. He received his BBA from the University of Cincinnati and Franklin University.

The proprietor of Barnhill's Dry Cleaners, he and his wife Martha have two daughters, Sue and Mrs. Steve (Cindy) Cassidy.

Mills, 40, a retired policeman, served on the Circleville Police Force for 14 years.

Mills and his wife Alyce are the parents of four children, Mark, Mike, Marcia and Melissa.

Unopposed on the Democrat ticket is Robert W. Bensonhaver. The 26-year-old first time politician majored in administration in high school and college. He is presently a reporter for the Circleville Herald.

Republican Joseph F. Bell is unopposed on either ticket for the president of council. He presently holds that position.

Four democrats are vying for councilman-at-large, of which three are to be elected in the primary.

Donald L. Greeno, David Crawford, James H. Locke and B. J. Thompson are the Democrats running for council-at-large.

Two Republicans for councilman on the ballot are Tommy Wells and Glen Stephen Jones.

In the four wards for councilman, all candidates are unopposed.

Running for first ward councilman is Republican David S. Goldschmidt. Vying for the second ward councilman's position is John W. Jenkins, Democrat and third ward councilman is Harold P. Hoffman, also a Democrat. Goldschmidt, Jenkins and Hoffman are unopposed in Tuesday's election.

Paul Roan is a write-in intent for fourth ward councilman position. He needs 25 write-in votes to gain a berth in the General Elections.

Democrat John R. Adkins is also unopposed for the city solicitor's office.

Candidates running for the position of City Auditor are both unopposed in the primary but will face each other in the November general election.

Incumbent Marvene Turner, Republican, is seeking the $10,000 auditor's position. Presently holding that position, she has held the auditor's job for 18 years.

Kathleen Hoffman, Democrat, has been a bookkeeper and legal secretary for 15 years.

If there is a write-in vote, such as is the case in the fourth ward councilman, the voter should look for the numbers 13 and 14 on the Democratic ticket only, then look to the top of the machine, lift one of the sliding slots and write the name of the candidate.

Voting precincts in the city are;

1-A — First Baptist Church, 1540 N. Court St.; 1-B Emmanuel United Methodist Church, Georgia Road; 1-C Pickaway Manor, Inc., 391 Clark Drive; 1-D Nicholas Drive School, Nicholas Drive;

2-A High Street School, Corner High and Pickaway Sts.; 2-B Coliseum-Fairgrounds, Lancaster Pike; 2-C Good Shepherd United Methodist Church Service Center, 310 E. Main Street;

3-A — Elks Home, side entrance, 215 N. Court St.; 3-B Court House, Engineers Office; 3-C Second Baptist Church, side entrance, 130 W. Mill St.;

Rolling Stones Roar Into Tour

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — The Rolling Stones roared into a long-awaited concert tour with a longer-than-usual twohour performance that made up for a late beginning, a crackling sound system and a mammoth traffic jam.

"It's good to get the first one out of you and release that tension," said Mick Jagger, lead singer and spokesman for the British rock group, after the Sunday matinee that was the group's first time on stage in 18 months.

Jagger promised something extra for the crowd at the first of their two performances. "This is the first show of our tour, so we're trying to find out what we're doing good and terrible. So we're going to do a lot more."

The Stones will play 58 concerts in America, Canada, Mexico and South America between now and September.

With them for the entire tour will be a new lead guitarist, Ron Wood, replacing Mick Taylor, who left the group late last year. The other Stones are guitarist Keith Richards, drummer Charlie Watts, and bassist Bill Wyman, along with Billy Preston, an American keyboard man who is touring with them.

The Stones played two shows at the 15,000-seat Louisiana State University Assembly Center. After the first show, fans staggered into a mammoth traffic jam made worse by early arrivals for the night show — just 90 minutes later.

Both performances started late. Patient fans bounced beachballs around as they waited more than an hour for stagehands to set up the huge lotuspetal stage. Then the house lights dimmed, the stage lit up, and the crowd came to its feet with a roar.

The ever-outrageous Jagger, dressed in a black leather jacket and pink-striped pantaloons, was lying near the rear of the stage. As the drums rolled and the trumpets blew flourishes, he popped to his feet and pranced around the stage.

Somebody in the audience threw a Confederate flag at his feet. Jagger picked it up and draped it over the bass drum.

The show went on. Jagger and Preston bumped and ground their way through Preston's hit, "Outer Space." Jagger gradually disrobed and sang the last two numbers waving his shirt over his head.

Civil Service Employees Open Negotiations

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Civil Service Employees Association, secure in its position as top representative of state employees, opens negotiations today on a new contract with the state Department of Rehabilitation and Correction.

Executive secretary Karl Stewart says he expects "no hassles" in bargaining for the contract which would cover the union's members within the department. Stewart said he expects negotiations to take three to four weeks.

He said the new pact provides recognition and representation, provisions for overtime distribution and shift differential and regular meetings with management.

The union has been working since April 30 without a contract, but Stewart said the old contract has been enforced since that time.

Stewart said the recent strikes by corrections workers at three state prisons have sent "hundreds of workers over to our union."

"You've got to remember, we've (OCSEA) always been the predominant group. You could multiply the other groups by five and we would still be in the majority."

Stewart claims a total membership of 35,000 to 36,000 among all Ohio government employees.

He called the work stoppage a "jurisdictional" problem rather than a conflict between employee and employer. He said the unions wanted recognition.

Members of the four other unions which represent prison workers will not be affected by any agreement reached between the state and OCSEA. No other union is recognized under a new state ruling unless they represent 30 per cent of the workers.

Stewart said the 30 per cent ruling is a "common standard in industry" and added it was not a "pie in the sky figure."

Stewart said the contract could cover up to three years, but he would prefer a one-year pact. He said this contract does not cover wage increases. The OCSEA is supporting a measure before the Ohio legislature which would provide a $1 across the board wage increase for all state workers including university employees and county welfare workers.

U.S. Meat Import Rate Slows Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — Meat imports have slowed down sharply but still were running 7 per cent ahead of last year through April, the Agriculture Department says.

The imports involve quotate meat, mostly beef used primarily for hamburger and other manufactured products. Government negotiators have been working out "voluntary restraint" agreements with supplying countries to keep shipments in bounds this year.

As announced on March 31, a total of 1.18 billion pounds of meat is expected to come into the U.S. market this calendar year, just short of an amount specified under a formula in a 1964 law which would trigger formal quotas.

As announced on March 31, a total of 1.18 billion pounds of meat is expected to come into the U.S. market this calendar year, just short of an amount specified under a formula in a 1964 law which would trigger formal quotas.

To avoid strict quotas — none has been applied in force since Congress approved the plan — countries are being asked to hold down deliveries to below the trigger level.

According to one source Thursday, agreements have been signed with most countries. Australia, the major source, has not formally signed but is expected to in the near future.

Meanwhile, the new import figures showed that during April about 86.1 million pounds of quota-type meat entered the United States, down from nearly 106 million in March.

The four-month total is 425 million pounds, compared with 396.6 million in January-April last year.

Australia showed a fourmonth total of 268.3 million pounds, up 46 per cent from a year earlier, and New Zealand — the second biggest supplier — provided 91.7 million pounds, a 30 per cent increase.

All the remaining 13 countries were shown to have shipped less meat to U.S. buyers during January-April than they did in the same four months of 1974.

China accounts for almost one-fourth of the world's population.

Your Horoscope Television Schedule

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR TUESDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): Your innate aggressiveness will prove an advantage in conducting day's activities. Don't push too hard and alienate associates, however.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Certain rare opportunities indicated. Familiarize yourself with data and knowledge required, then step forth with qualified action and proven technique.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Mixed influences. Avoid overoptimism. Too rosy an outlook could cause you to overlook small but vital details. The P.M. Brings some good news.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Expend energies wisely. There's a tendency now to overtax yourself. Your talent for carrying out assignments against big odds can be cleverly used.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): A new type of work assignment should make your day more interesting than usual. On the personal side, an unexpected invitation will delight you.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Distant interests take the spotlight. You may now be able to take a trip that was postponed or you may hear some excellent news from afar.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): A sudden flash of intuition in a romantic matter will be right on target. Follow through and recent barriers to happiness will fall.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Never mind the odds against you: Keep working toward your objectives. There is always a way for the imaginative, optimistic worker. And you are that!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Do not pay too much attention if associates seem difficult. Some persons may be "edgy" now, so don't take unseemly action personally.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): You could launch a new venture now if you have given it careful thought. A good day for promoting, advertising your wares; in general, to press on to better things.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Fine influences stimulate your ingenuity, creative and personality. Be careful, however, not to go to extremes in anything you undertake.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): More gains indicated than you anticipate. But there will be SOME obstacles, so pick your way alertly and cautiously — but without anxiety.

Leakey Institute To Be Built

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — An institute for African prehistory is to be built in memory of one of the world's greatest anthropologists, the late Dr. Louis Leakey.

The $1-million institute will provide research facilities and will serve as a global focus on the origin of man.

The Louis Leakey Memorial Institute for African Prehistory is being built at the National Museum. Leakey, a Briton, earned international recognition for the discoveries of early man that he made at sites all over East Africa.

Rocky Panel Ends CIA Investigations; Report Set Friday

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Rockefeller Commission is winding up its five-month investigation of the CIA amid controversy over whether President John F. Kennedy and his brother, Robert, were involved in alleged efforts to kill Cuban Premier Fidel Castro.

The eight-member panel headed by Vice President Nelson A. Rockefeller is scheduled to hold its final meeting later today to review the report it will deliver to President Ford on Friday.

There has been no public evidence linking either President Kennedy or then Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy directly to a plot to kill Castro.

A former high-ranking Defense Department official said Friday that, while acting on orders from President Kennedy delivered through an intermediary, he developed plans for removing Castro by any means, including assassination.

The former official, retired Air Force Maj. Gen. Edward G. Lansdale, hinted strongly but refused to state that Robert Kennedy was the intermediary.

He did not make clear what his specific orders were and in subsequent interviews, Lansdale said: "Neither President Kennedy nor any other Kennedy ever gave me any orders to plan the assassination of Castro."

Lansdale said his planning effort began in 1962 when the United States first received intelligence that Castro was planning to install Soviet-made nuclear missiles in Cuba.

Informed sources have disclosed that the Rockefeller Commission possesses the minutes of an Aug. 10, 1962, meeting at which Cabinet officials discussed the possible assassination of Castro.

The same sources have said the commission has a copy of a subsequent memo written by Lansdale which provided authority for the CIA to develop contingency plans for killing Castro.

Lansdale said he does not remember the memo but acknowledges that it would not be incompatible with his assignment at the time.

Lansdale said he knew of no assassination plots actually put into effect as a result of his contingency planning.

President Kennedy is said to have discussed the possibility of assassinating Castro on at least two occasions, once with former Florida Sen. George A. Smathers and once with journalist Tad Szulc. The recollection of both men is that Kennedy was against the idea.

Several former aides to Robert Kennedy have said he once told them he "turned off" a CIA plot to kill Castro.

Suburban Living Trademarks Missing At Newfields

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — What catches the eye of the casual visitor to the new Dayton suburban community of Newfields is what he doesn't see. And that's the way the planners want it.

The trademarks of suburban living—television antennas, mobile homes in the driveway, chain link fencing—are prohibited by the town's design standards, administered by a committee of five that will shape Newfields' appearance for the next 20 years.

You won't find any white houses, all the exterior is in tones of brown, tan or greengray. The review board's control also covers landscaping and fencing.

Heading the powerful board is Robert I. Kaplan, 32, who holds degrees in architecture and city planning from Pratt Institute in New York. Kaplan is director of planning, design and engineering for Newfields Development Corp., the private developer of the town.

"The controls are intended to benefit the residents, not restrict their freedom," Kaplan says.

"The intent is to insure an overall community appearance far above average," he said. "We think that will enhance their property's value over the years."

Kaplan said residents will be offered "an alternative way" for television, fencing, porches and patios, or ownership of a motor home or recreational vehicle.

"For example, there will be a master television antenna you can hook up to, and maybe even cable. If you don't want to garden in your yard, we'll have garden plots elsewhere you can use. We'll have a storage area in the village for recreational vehicles."

Despite tight controls, there will be some room for individual expression, according to Kaplan.

While general landscaping will be decided by the board, plantings around the foundation walls of houses are left to the resident's choice. If he wants a fence, there are a variety from which he can choose.

"We have controls on building so we don't end up with abortions like Swiss chalets, Hollywood facades and Spanish haciendas," Kaplan said. "There will be a lot of traditional style housing in Newfields, but we will screen it to be sure it is compatible and to avoid tackiness."

Brezhnev Again Absent From View

MOSCOW (AP) — Leonid I. Brezhnev has been absent from public view since May 9, and there are rumors that he is under medical treatment again.

Officials attending the North Atlantic Alliance meeting in Brussels last week said they had reports indicating the 68-year-old head of the Soviet Communist party intends to retire next year after the party's 25th congress.

The Kremlin, as usual, is saying nothing. But if Brezhnev doesn't reappear soon it will fuel speculation about both his physical and political health.

Brezhnev normally should give a "campaign" speech prior to the election June 15 of the Russian republic's parliament for which he is one of the unopposed candidates. The election is the usual prearranged Communist affair, but the party adheres to some of the trappings of democracy in an attempt to strengthen the myth that democracy is in operation.

Brezhnev's failure to make a campaign speech would be a major departure from tradition and evidence that something was seriously wrong.

Last year, when he was a candidate for the Supreme Soviet, the parliament of the Soviet Union, he made his speech on June 14, two days before the election.

In 1971, as a candidate for the Russian parliament, he gave a nationally televised campaign speech on June 11, again two days before election day.

Thus, June 13 is eagerly awaited by Brezhnev watchers.

Last month there were rumors that Brezhnev was undergoing medical treatment of an unspecified nature and would be out of sight for a period. But one well-placed Soviet source discounted these reports and said he was in good physical condition.

The party chief was last seen in public at a reception in the Kremlin on May 9. He appeared vigorous and conversed animatedly with foreign guests and members of the Politburo.

Brezhnev was reported to have had a severe bout of the flu last fall, dropped out of sight in late December, and did not reappear until Feb. 13, when British Prime Minister Harold Wilson visited Moscow. An official spokesman said then that he had been suffering from a "cold-type illness."

Trick Knee Trips Up President

SALZBURG, Austria (AP) — White House aides blame a chronic "football knee" for the hard fall and other missteps that President Ford suffered in Salzburg on Sunday.

Lt. Col. Robert Blake, Ford's Air Force aide, disclosed that the 61-year-old President wears a knee supporter when he plays golf because of an injury when he played center for the University of Michigan during the 1930s.

Ford's fall, which appeared to have been caused by rainslicked steps, occurred as he was coming down the ramp from his plane at the Salzburg airport. Still several steps from the bottom, he slipped and his right heel caught on the final step. He sprawled forward on his hands and one knee. The heel was torn off.

Shaken and chagrined, the President landed practically at the feet of Austrian Chancellor Bruno Kreisky. Ford rose quickly to shake Kreisky's hand and to assure the chancellor he was uninjured.

"Sorry I tumbled in," he told the small crowd that turned out in the rain to greet him.

Taking a similar light tone, Mrs. Ford told newsmen: "It was a nonskid heel, it said on the bottom."

Rear Adm. William R. Lukash, the President's doctor, explained that Ford's knee gets stiff if he sits in one position for an extended period of time.

Lukash said Ford assured him he was not hurt by his fall, but he did not examine him.

The President slipped again Sunday as he was entering and leaving the 16th Century palace where he met with Egyptian President Anwar Sadat on the Middle East crisis.

24 Arrested In Raid

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A raid on an alleged gambling house resulted in the arrests of 24 persons here late Saturday night, police said.

Police said one man, Louis Jones, 37, of Indianapolis, suffered a broken ankle when he allegedly attempted to escape by jumping out of a second story window. Police said 23 persons were charged with visiting a gambling house. One man — Earl Scales Jr., 33 — was charged with keeping a gambling house.

Increases May Hit . . .

May, an Associated Press survey showed today.

A continued slide in sugar prices, now 47.8 per cent in the last six months, failed to offset increases in chicken, pork chops and potatoes.

The survey covered a dozen Ohio cities — Akron, Athens, Cleveland, Columbus, Conneaut, Marietta, Massillon, Portsmouth, Steubenville, Van Wert and Youngstown.

Sixteen food items included in the Ohio marketbasket were hamburger, chuck roast, chicken, pork chops, milk, margarine, peanut butter, eggs, toilet tissue, bread, sugar, potatoes, coffee, detergent, chocolate chip cookies and frozen orange juice.

Total cost of the marketbasket rose to $17.52 on the average compared to $17.03 a month ago.

Granulated sugar, after a spectacular price rise from 80 cents for five pounds back in late 1973 to an average of $2.95 the first of December, 1974, dropped another 14.9 per cent in May. The average of prices in the 12 surveyed cities fell to $1.54 for a five-pound package as of June 1.

Eggs fell off, too, but not quite so deeply. The average price for a dozen mediums hit 56 cents, down 11.1 per cent from the 63 cents a dozen a month ago.

Frying chickens staged the biggest price increase — 16.6 per cent to 63 cents a pound from the 54 cents May 1. Loin pork chops rose 4.6 per cent, from $1.71 a pound a month back to $1.79 a pound today. The price of hamburger held firm at an average of 85 cents a pound, and blade-cut chuck roast showed a narrow hike of two cents a pound from an average of $1.04 to $1.06.

White potatoes jumped 14 per cent, to $1.22 for a 10-pound bag from $1.07 a month ago. A 12-ounce can of frozen orange juice went up 6.6 per cent, from 60 cents to 64 cents.

Cities showed a wide divergence in prices, so much so that the marketbasket in Massillon ran only $15.45 and at Van Wert just $15.96, but stood at $18.35 in Athens, $18.22 at Conneaut, $18.28 at Chillicothe and $18.13 at Portsmouth.

Sugar, for example, ranged in price from $1.35 for five pounds in Youngstown and Cleveland to $1.79 in Van Wert, $1.69 in Portsmouth, $1.68 in Athens and $1.64 in Akron.

Pork chops went for $1.29 in Van Wert, but $1.99 in Athens and $1.98 in Columbus. A similar price spread showed up in chuck roast, from 77 cents a pound in Van Wert to $1.41 in Marietta.

Youth Hurt In Cycle Accident

Fourteen-year-old Doyné Shirey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shirey, 425 E. Union St., was admitted to Berger Hospital for multiple abrasions and contusions when he wrecked his motorcycle, 1 p.m. Saturday.

Shirey was northbound on a private access road next to the Norfolk and Western Road, when the cycle slipped in loose gravel. The youth lost control of the cycle and fell off.

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy James Fite investigated the incident.

Kathleen G. Brammer, 30, Ashville, was cited by Deputy Nick Franklin for failure to yield the right of way when she was involved in a two-car accident, 7 a.m. today.

A car driven by Danny R. McGarvey, 24, Ashville, was northbound on Long Street in Ashville, when Ms. Brammer pulled from the Pines Apartments entrance into the right side of the McGarvey vehicle.

No injuries were reported.

Thieves Damage Mobile Home

Vandals caused $50 damage to a mobile home belonging to Oakley C. Adkins, 131 Villa Dr. between 5 p.m. Thursday and noon Sunday.

According to the report taken by Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputy J. Phillip Brown, the vandals allegedly broke the rear door window by shooting it with a rifle.

Thieves took $8 worth of coins from the residence of Mrs. Bobby L. Keller, Route 1, Ashville, Sunday.

Entry was gained through a bedroom window.

Deputy Garry Betts took the report.

Thieves, Vandals Hit Cars In City

Virginia Hatfield, 315 Sunset Drive, notified city police that she had parked her car at her residence at 2 a.m. Saturday morning and someone drained the gas from the tank on the car during the night.

The paint on the side of a car belonging to Clement Large, 147 E. Mill St., was scratched with a sharp object sometime Saturday evening.

Jury Decides Civil Suit

A jury of eight returned a verdict last week in favor of the plaintiff in a portion of the original suit and one in favor of the defendant in another portion of the suit.

Shirley and George Dean had sought judgment against the Westfall Board of Education and Kenneth Eugene Reid for $40,000. The jury awarded judgment to Mrs. Dean for $11,000 but ruled in favor of the school board in her husband's claim.

The Deans were seeking the money as a result of damages and injuries suffered by Mrs. Dean in an auto-bus accident on Sept. 8, 1972.

Another jury was being impaneled this morning in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court to hear a civil suit involving $1,504.98.

The Hartford Insurance Group is seeking that amount from Paul Congrove and Charles Walters.

EAT A BETTER BREAKFAST

(It makes for a better day!)

Good nutrition starts with the first meal of the day — breakfast. It will may be your most important meal. You have spent about 12 hours without food ... and your body needs "refueling" to provide the energy to carry you through the day.

Watching your calories? Don't skip breakfast. An egg with a slice of toast (be sure the bread is made with enriched or whole grain flour) and a glass of orange juice totals only about 200 calories — and you won't be tempted to snack during the morning.

Use your imagination! Protein provides the long-lasting energy which will help prevent that midday lag. To vary traditional breakfast fare, there's nothing wrong with a hamburger, a grilled cheese, or a peanut butter sandwich. Or, if it strikes your fancy, a pizza!

For a cool refresher on a sizzling morning, try a dish of strawberries (for Vitamin C) topped with milk, yogurt or even ice cream sprinkled with crunchy wheat flakes. Cottage cheese with fruit or tomatoes is nice, too.

Good nutrition — and breakfast — can be fun. And you'll be doing yourself a favor by eating right.
